Nasser Quits As President; Israel Hammering At Syria

Damascus Bows To U.N. Plea

COMBINED AP & UPI

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.—Syria promptly announced today it would heed the United Nations Security Council's renewed urgings for a cease-fire, but claimed Israel was still on the attack.

Syria's Ambassador George J. Tomeh said Damascus was still being bombed and reports from Tel Aviv said informed military forces reported Israeli troops hammering at the gates of Syria's capital.

Syria's ceas-fire acceptance came only 90 minutes after the Security Council again demanded an end to Israeli-Syrian hostilities "forthwith."

The council quickly gave its unanimous approval to the new resolution which was worked out in private negotiations after Syria requested an urgent meeting to deal with the new outbreak of fighting on the Israeli-Syrian border.

TASK FOR THANT

The approved proposal requested Secretary-General U Thant to make the necessary contacts with Syria and Israel to see that the cease-fire agreement is implemented.

He was asked to report back within two hours on the result of his contacts.

Before the vote the secretary-general told the hurriedly called meeting that heavy fighting was continuing and that Damascus and Syria border villages were under aerial bombardment.

CHARGES TRADED

Syria and Israel blamed each other for the flare-up after they had agreed last night to end the shooting on the last of the three Arab-Israeli fronts. Fighting had ended earlier on the Jordanian and Egyptian fronts.

This morning's meeting of the 15-nation council was called at the request of Syria, but Israel quickly came through with a countercomplaint blaming the new outbreak on Syria.

Syria appealed to the United Nations for an immediate Security Council meeting to stop "large-scale Israeli aggression."

Israel charged Syria violated the cease-fire it accepted yesterday by opening up with mortars

Broadcast In Cairo Admits Heavy Losses

CAIRO, Egypt (UPI) — Gamal Abdel Nasser resigned as president of the United Arab Republic tonight and assumed "full responsibility for this tragedy" of Arab setbacks at the hands of Israel.

Within minutes of the shock announcement, demonstrations broke out in Cairo, still blacked out despite a cease-fire.

"We want Nasser! We want Nasser!" crowds chanted and screamed.

Men and women stood weeping in the streets.

Nasser charged the United States and Britain provided the air cover Israel needed for its advances into Arab territory.

Looking tired, the 47-year old man who sought to be the leader of Arab destiny said he wanted Vice President Zakaria Mohieddin to succeed him as president. His announcement was made via radio and television on a program advertised in advance as important.

NO CHANGE

He indicated there would be no change in UAR policy.

"The forces of imperialism believe that Gamal Abdel Nasser is their only enemy," he said. "I want it to be clear before them that it is the entire Arab nation and not just Gamal Abdel Nasser alone."

His address was made "to the whole Arab nation."

He said he had "decided to relinquish completely and definitely any official and political role and return to the ranks of the people and carry out my duty to them."

TAKES BLAME

Nasser, 49, who nationalized the Suez Canal, built the Aswan Dam, sought to carve a united world from among the Arab states and led the war against Israel, said he was taking all the blame for the Arab loss.

He said he "could not hide the fact that Egypt had suffered a grave setback" in the war, thanks to American and British air aid to Israel.

"I am assuming full responsibility for this tragedy," he said. Again, he charged that U.S. and British aircraft from carriers in

Arabs Mob Embassies In Moscow

MOSCOW (UPI)—A screaming mob of 2,000 Arab students marched on the U.S. and British embassies today but were turned back by an iron curtain of Soviet soldiers and police.

The students sat on the curbs and wept in frustration. Some fought among themselves.

The mob, protesting alleged American and British help to Israel in the Middle East, encountered the heaviest defenses ever thrown up around a foreign mission in Moscow during their 20-minute rally outside the U.S. embassy.

UNARMED TROOPS

A force of 5,000 unarmed Soviet troops and police guarded the American building. The embassy closed its steel riot-protection shutters.

Outnumbered by more than two-to-one at the U.S. embassy, the Arab students faced the choice of starting violence or moving on. They moved on, shouting "Yankee Go Home!" and waving anti-American placards.

From the American embassy they marched to the British embassy where they encountered more Soviet troops and police. The Arabs were permitted to hold a 30-minute mass meeting in the street.

THEY LEAVE

Then a police loudspeaker said, "Comrades, the demonstration is over. Please disperse." Sullenly, they left.

Plans for a march on the Israeli embassy were abandoned. Informed sources said police forbade it.

Elaborate precautions were taken by the Soviets at the American embassy. Thirty big water-spraying trucks were lined up to block the front of the building. Near the embassy gates, a solid line of plain-clothes Soviet agents formed a last line of defense.

$1 Million Plus Eyed For School

By ROBERT STREBEIGH

Tomales High School District voters will go to the polls in September for a third time to vote on an even larger bond issue than the one for $900,000 defeated by two votes on Tuesday.

That was made plain at the district trustees' meeting at the school last night. The meeting was marked by bitterness from the floor, demands for a recount, threats of a law suit challenging the entire election and pleas for a search for other means of paying for a building to replace the one declared unsafe under earthquake standards of the Field Act of 1933.

TO PICK DATE

Trustees instructed Supt. Anthony Matulich to prepare the necessary papers for another election and set a special meeting for 8 p.m. June 22 at the school, when the trustees will pick a date, probably Sept. 19.

The trustees received favorably Matulich's suggestion that the increased assessed valuation expected may make possible a bond issue of $1,037,487. He recommended the highest possible issue to allow for increased construction costs resulting from delay caused by Tuesday's defeat.

Architect Richard Marshall told the board that if the new issue is approved Sept. 19, bids could be asked by Dec. 19 and opened Jan. 19, 1968. Construction, he said, could be completed by February, 1969.

NONE OPPOSED

The trustees acted unanimously after impassioned pleas from the audience of about 50 persons. No one opposed a new bond election.

Gibbs Lawson of Dillon Beach, a member of the county parks and recreation commission, told the trustees the 1,002-to-503 vote for the bonds was "a mandate from the people . . . to proceed . . . with a new building."

Lawson suggested the possibility of financing a new building by a special tax or other method be explored. Trustees asked Matulich to try to have that information by June 22.

Mrs. Ellen Straus of Marshall asked for an investigation of the legality of the election, citing disturbances in Inverness and Point Reyes Station polling places where the anti-bond faction challenged registration of some known pro-bond voters.

This drew a recommendation from Trustee Jean Adams that a means be found to alert all district voters to the necessity of

BALLOT CHIEF CLAIMS BONDS LOST BY 12

John F. Musser, director of elections in the county clerk's office, today said the Tomales High School District bond issue failed by 12 votes instead of two votes.

Musser said he had checked and re-checked the precinct totals and got 513 "no" votes, rather than 503 as initially reported.

Supt. Anthony Matulich of Tomales High School District, however, asid the 503 "no" count was correct. He said an error had been made in report of the Watson precinct in Sonoma County, where 17 "yes" and 17 "no" were entered on the tally sheet. The actual count there was 17 yes to 7 no, said Matulich.

The Tomales superintendent is pretty sure he's right. There are only 25 registered voters in Watson precinct.

Supervisors Go Along With Salary Increases

Marin County Administrator Alan Bruce's recommendation for salary increases for county employees, which would add $322,061 to the county payroll next fiscal year, were accepted in most cases by county supervisors during review yesterday and today.

Exceptions taken by the board, in all but one case, were in ordering raises higher, not lower than those suggested by Bruce.

The administrator generally recommended increases of 2.5 per cent minimum except where there are recruiting problems. He recommended heftier increases for department heads and assistants.

A petition signed by 450 county employees was presented the board yesterday, seeking a minimum 5 per cent increase for all employees, but supervisors based their discussions on Bruce's recommendation.

The board refused to accept the county administrator's proposal for $1,500 a month for assistant county counsel and assistant district attorney, now in a pay scale ranging from $1,200 to $1,300 a month. Supervisors set the new salary at $1,400 a month.

Supervisor John F. McInnis said it seemed the county had traditionally generous with employees in the upper echelons, but not so generous with lower classification. Supervisor Peter H. Behr voted against the $1,400 figure because he wanted to go higher.

The board approved the administrator's recommendation on other attorney classification, raising senior attorneys from $1,150 to $1,300 a month, attorney threes from $1,050 to $1,200, attorney twos from $850 to $900 starting pay, and attorney ones from $650 to $725 starting pay.

Supervisors granted a 5 per cent increase, rather than the 2.5 per cent Bruce recommended, for many lower level welfare and probation workers. This was after Welfare Director Betty L. Presley and Probation

Arab Chambers Propose Boycott Of U.S., Britain

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The Federation of Arab Chambers of Commerce proposed today that the Arab boycott against Israel be extended to all goods and services from the United States and Britain.

It declared that American and British aid to Israel "makes it imperative for the Arabs to start a full-scale economic battle against imperialism."

"The export of oil to the aggressive countries must be stopped immediately, and all the rules of the Arab boycott must be applied to all American and British products and services. British and American means of transport should also be boycotted in all Arab countries."

The resolution said the Arabs are determined to continue their struggle in all fields "until the achievement of the ultimate victory—namely the destruction of Israel and the restoration of the usurped land."

SHIP DEATH TOLL MAY RISE TO 31

U. S. Makes Formal Protest To Israel; Wounded Moved To Other Ship For Care

COMBINED AP & UPI

WASHINGTON — The death toll has climbed to a possible 31 in the mistaken Israeli air and sea attack on the U.S. Communications ship Liberty in the Mediterranean yesterday, the Defense Department announced today.

A Pentagon spokesman said nine sailors were known dead, 22 were missing and 75 wounded, 15 of them seriously.

Some of the missing are believed trapped in the flooded forward compartments of the ship. It was not known whether any were lost at sea.

NEW REPORT

The new report on casualties was issued after the U. S. destroyers Davis and Massey and the carrier America rendezvoused with the Liberty in the eastern Mediterranean.

One doctor and one medical corpsman from each of the destroyers were transferred to the Liberty.

All of the 15 seriously wounded were transferred by helicopter to the America. Twenty other wounded were scheduled to be flown to the aircraft carrier later.

The ships headed toward Souda Bay, Crete, at a speed of 10 knots. They were expected to reach Crete at about 3:30 p.m. PDT tomorrow.

TWO OFFICERS

The America sent two officers and 10 enlisted men by helicopter to the Liberty to help man the ship.

The White House said President Johnson was "deeply grieved at the fact that at last report a possible 31 deaths were caused by the attack."

Press secretary Geroge Christian added that the United States, of course, "had filed a strong protest on the matter" with the Israeli government."

Asked if the United States was satisfied with Israel's explanation that the attack was a mistake, Christian said: "As I said, the U.S. government has made formal protest to the Israeli government."

Christian also made public the text of a message to Johnson from Israeli Premier Levi Eshkol conveying condolences over the incident.

The text: "I was deeply grieved by the tragic loss of life o.i the U.S. naval ship Liberty. Please accept my deep condolences and convey my sympathy to all the agrieved families. May all bloodshed come to an end and may our God grant us peace evermore."

VICTORY SHIP

The USS Liberty, a World War II Victory ship outfitted with the latest electronic equipment, first was strafed by a flight of Israeli jet fighters. They made at least six passes over the lightly armed Liberty.

Twenty minutes later, three torpedo boats bore down on the U.S. vessel, firing at least two torpedoes. One hit the Liberty.

The Sixth Fleet's attack carriers America and Saratoga scrambled planes toward the attack scene, but they were recalled when Israel quickly notified U.S. authorities and said the attack was a mistake.

15 MILES AWAY

The Liberty, reported in some quarters to be outfitted for sophisticated electronic snooping as well as relay of diplomatic messages, had just taken up a position 15 miles

Mansfield Sees Viet Hopes In Mideast Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top senators hope U.S.-Soviet cooperation in working for a Middle East cease-fire will lead to a Vietnam settlement.

"There are a lot of skeptics of course," said one senator, "but there is a feeling. Maybe it's just a hope."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said he certainly hoped that "out of this would come some consideration of Vietnam difficulty."

President Johnson, said Mansfield, "would not look unfavorably" on the United Nations turning its attention to Vietnam after it deals with the Mideast crisis.

"We might see a new approach to Vietnam," said Mansfield. "Maybe a de-escalation of the bombing. I would not be too surprised if that happened."

Draft Call Upped

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department issued today a draft call for 29,000 men in August, its largest montly quota since last year. The call in July was for 19,000.

SQUARES ARE RIGHT— POP MUSIC DEAFENING

LONDON (UPI) — Parents and squares already know it. But for hippies and swingers, the word from the International Medical Tribune today is beware — pop music can indeed cause deafness.

The magazine quoted two doctors as saying pop music at the volume it is normally heard these days can cause "progressive, cumulative and permanent damage to the ear."

Drs. Charles Lebo and John Garrett based their findings on two discotheques where background noise rose as high as 120 decibels. That's 10 decibels more than the average pneumatic drill at close quarters.

Rock'n'roller Peter Noone the Herman of the Hermits—scoffed: "I've never met a deaf fan."

Attorney Irving Morris, who filed the petition yesterday, said, "It's the only way out for Betty. She is listing debts of about $150,000 and practically no assets."

He said Miss Hutton, 46, would take care of her obligations but wants to avoid "creditors sitting around the table" when she performs.

Morris blamed poor investments for the blonde actress' money problems. He said she is beginning a new singing-acting career.

Redistricting Proposal Wins Senate Approval

WASHINGTON (AP)—Surprisingly overriding committee recommendations, the Senate has approved a strict congressional redistricting bill that would force reapportionment in 33 states by next year.

The Senate action slashed by two-thirds—from 30 per cent to 10 per cent — the variation in district population allowable within each state under the bill as it passed the House.

The measure now goes to a Senate-House conference committee amid predictions a compromise between the 30 per cent and 10 per cent figures will be reached.

The Senate first voted 44 to 39 yesterday for an amendment by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., that inserted the 10 per cent limit. It then passed the bill 57 to 25.

Reagan Raps Subsidy Idea For Housing

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gov. Ronald Reagan says subsidized housing is not the answer to housing or social problems.

Speaking to the Pacific Coast Builders Conference yesterday, he said public housing too often becomes public slum housing. He said it is no coincidence that where there are large public housing projects there are also major social problems.

Reagan took note of the slump in the building industry. He expressed confidence that a cooperative effort of government and industry "can end this slump even quicker than it now appears to be ending."

The governor said that a task force has been set up on the building and construction industry and that it is looking at ways to improve the building climate. He added it is looking to see whether cutting government red tape can aid the problem, and examining the need for a possible supplemental money mark ble supplemental money market.

Reagan digressed briefly to comment that 170 "of the best and most successful businessmen in California" already have found ways of saving millions of dollars in state government costs.

He cautioned that many of the savings worked out by these study groups will not be evident until the next budget year.

At a news conference, Reagan rejected as serving no useful purpose suggestions being made by groups opposed to capital punishment that executions be publicly televised. He said there would be the same logic for televising "the murder of innocent victims."

The San Anselmo building department issued 15 permits for building estimated at $78,534 during May, compared to building estimated at $56,178 in April and $989,379 in May, 1966.

Viet Reds Shell City At Midnight

SAIGON (UPI)—Communist guerrillas bombarded the center of the ancient city of Hue in a midnight mortar assault on American and Vietnamese military posts, U.S. spokesmen said today.

It was a defiant attack apparently designed to prove the crucial battle for South Vietnam's northern provinces is not over, despite record Communist casualties.

Only a few miles away, U.S. Marines were sweeping a spit of land south of the city in search of Communists who have been harassing Hue for weeks.

The old imperial capital has been a prime target for the Communists in their fight to take over the key northern provinces. It houses the headquarters of the Vietnamese 1st Division and is one of the nation's most important centers of learning.

The mortars caused light damage and casualties, spokesmen said. One American was slightly wounded. At least 36 mortar rounds fell in the city, including 11 in the U.S. military advisory compound.

Officials estimate North Vietnam has five well-equipped divisions poised in the northern provinces or in the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) dividing the Vietnams. Hue is 40 miles south of the DMZ.

The mortar attack followed renewed heavy fighting along the border between Leathernecks and North Vietnamese regulars. The fighting centered around the Marine camps at Con Thien and Khe Sanh Wednesday but petered out to scattered action yesterday.

Officials said a total of 19 Communists were killed in skirmishes throughout the northern province yesterday. Four Marines were killed and 21 injured.

BATTERY CARS FOR FREEWAYS BY MID-70S?

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A startling but earnest proposal to outlaw all gasoline-consuming cars from California highways by 1975 should be given serious thought, a legislative committee says.

The measure, proposed by Sen. Nicholas C. Petris, D-Oakland, was strongly supported by Frank Stead, retired California air pollution chief.

Stead said that just one car — going from Santa Monica to Pasadena in 45 minutes — uses up more oxygen than all the millions of Los Angeles area residents breathe during the same time.

First Reagan Budget Passes The Assembly

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state Senate, thinly controlled by Democrats, today became the Legislature's budget-tax battle ground. The Assembly had completed its task — temporarily.

Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan's first budget sped through the lower chamber yesterday afternoon on a bipartisan, 64-14 vote.

The record $5,154,264,128 spending program for the fiscal year beginning July 1 went immediately into the Senate Finance Committee, already considering its own version of the budget.

A BIT FATTER

The Assembly budget was $94.9 million over Reagan's "strict economy" spending program submitted by the new Republican governor March 28.

And it is $818 million out of balance.

Reagan has proposed a record $1.07 billion tax boost to match income with outgo and balance the budget. The tax bill, which calls for increases in nearly every source of revenue the state has and some new ones besides, was heard Wendesday for the first time by the tough Senate Governmental Efficiency (GE) Committee.

The Assembly's debate on the budget was in sharp contrast to recent legislative sessions, when the Democrats were eager to pass a budget offered originally by former Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown, but Republicans often stalled it.

'MOVE IT'

"We should move this budget across without too much concern for the content," said GOP caucus chairman Don Mulford of Piedmont. He noted that it still must pass the Senate, go to a two-house conference committee and be signed by the governor before going into effect.

Assemblyman John L. Burton, D-San Francisco, led scattered opposition to the budget. He said cuts in spending for mental hospitals, prisons and other institutions were "penny-wise and pound foolish."

Assemblyman Victory V. Veysey, R-Brawley, said the budget was too high but "I will hold my nose and vote yes."

All the "no" votes were Democrats.

Abortion Bill On Assembly Floor

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Assembly Criminal Procedure Committee early today approved the abortion liberalization bill and sent it to the lower house floor where it faces just one more major test.

The committee endorsed the measure on a voice vote after a four-hour hearing where supporters said it would modernize an "archaic, barbaric and hypocritical" law and opponents said it would turn California into a giant "abortion mill."

Sen. Anthony Beilenson, D-Beverly Hills, author of the bill, confidently predicted it would pass the Assembly. It already has passed the Senate and Gov. Ronald Reagan has promised to sign it.

Assemblyman W. Craig Biddle, R-Riverside, Assembly sponsor of the legislation, said he plans to call for a vote Tuesday.

The measure would legalize abortions if continuation of the pregnancy would damage the physical or mental health of the mother. It also would permit termination of pregnancies of 14 years of age or younger and of victims of forcible rape and incest, regardless of their age.

Present law permits legal abortions only when necessary to protect the life of the mother.

If the bill becomes law, as now appears probable, California will become the third state to liberalize its abortion statute this year. Colorado and North Carolina have already enacted laws similar to the Beilenson measure.

The 20-story Grady Memorial Hospital in Atlanta, Ga., is the largest all-charity institution in the Southeast.

Warning Out: Health Foes Keep Silent

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Reagan administration has bluntly told state employees it will fire anyone who tries to "sabotage" its cutbacks in the Mental Hygiene Department.

Spencer Willias, administrator of the Health and Welfare Agency, made the statement on yesterday in declaring he is tired of the tactics used by some opponents of the budget cuts and employee layoffs now in progress.

As his statement was being released in the Capitol, a group of persons sponsoring television commercials against the cutbacks held a news conference insisting its charges of patient neglect were true.

Williams and Gov. Ronald Reagan have said this just isn't so.

Williams declared there have been reports that some state employees may "sabotage" patient care in fighting to get the money restored.

"While it is difficult to believe that any human being could be so despicable, careful surveillance will be maintained to assure that this is not permitted to occur," he added.

And, he stated, "if it does, those involved will be immediately dismissed and all appropriate action possible will be taken against such people."

Not A Burglary

San Anselmo police said today that a burglary reported yesterday at the home of Mrs. Margaret Osborne, 8 Sunny Drive, turned out not to have been a burglary. Some of the things reported missing were taken by a relative, police said, and a gun reported missing was not in fact missing.

GOLDBERG IS EMPHATIC

Just before today's U.N. Security Council session, U.S. Ambassador Arthur Goldberg (left) was overheard telling Syria's Ambassador George Tomeh, "That's it. I want it that way and that's final." He apparently was referring to U.S. opposition ot Soviet demands that Syria's plea for a cease-fire order against Israel be coupled with order for a pullback by Israeli troops. The U.S. position won; the order simply calls for observance of the cease-fire by both sides.

Suspect In Hippie Still Raid Freed

Three San Francisco hippies were arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on charges of distilling hallucination-making mescaline and having marijuana in a rented Fairfax house.

A fourth, 23-year-old Carol Marie Costa, was released without charges by Judge Peter Allen Smith.

Arraigned on a joint charge of processing peyote to produce mescaline were Gary Paul Davis, 23, Michael Edgar Kerr, and his wife, Barbara Irene Kerr, both 20. Davis also was charged with marijuana possession and the Kerrs with planting and cultivation of marijuana.

Judge Smith set bail at $1,100 each and scheduled plea entries for 1:30 p.m. on June 22.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Leonard Shaw said, no charge was made against Miss Costa, also of San Francisco, because of insufficient evidence.

Fairfax police and federal narcotics agents found Davis at the distilling apparatus in the house at 79 Dominga Avenue. The Kerrs and Miss Costa entered while the officers were there. Shaw said the Kerrs had rented the house.

The raiding officers, Wednesday night, found 40 gallons of mescaline, 100 pounds of peyote buttons, and a small quantity of marijuana. They said Davis was tending the still when they entered.

Prison Terms On LSD Count

Lawrence Porter, 30, of Mill Valley and David Lazarus, 24 of San Francisco were sentenced yesterday in U.S. District Court in San Francisco to a year in prison for conspiring to sell LSD.

Porter, of 524 Shoreline Highway, and Lazarus had pleaded guilty to conspiring to sell more than 1,700 doses of the hallucinatory drug.

Judge Lloyd H. Burke called the drug "treacherous" and said the increase in its use "requires strong and immediate measures with regard to its control."

Vandals Damage Control Gauges

Vandals forced their way through a fence at Pacific Gas & Electric Co.'s high-pressure holding station in San Rafael Meadows, entering to damage eight control gauges, sheriff's officers reported today.

Charles Lee, division gas engineer, told deputies Tuesday the intruders, presumably juveniles, also broke a wondow of the pumping building. Damage estimate was over $750.

RAISES

Officer Walter H. Busher described difficulties in hiring.

County Recorder Noel T. Giacomini complanied over classifying his workers in the clerical series. He said they are "legal processors" and should be in higher paying classifications.

Bruece said the recorder's office should be studied during the next fiscal year, and if changes are justified, it might be possible to make them retroactive to July 1 if County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney "can find a way through" the state ban on retroactive pay.

Later in the day, Bruce proposed the same proceedure for the clerical series itself, but Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, out of the room at the earlier mention, said he would never vote for retroactive pay.

The board will meet again at 9 a.m. Monday at the Civic Center to review planning department, county schools and public works budgets.

Driven Out Of Portales

PORTALES, N.M. (AP)—This eastern New Mexico city has decided to do away with parking meters.

The City Council took the action after a trial period in which the meters were covered and a two-hour parking limit set in the downtown area.

Police Chief Lloyd Moore said the two-hour system presented fewer problems than the use of meters.

Mayor James Kiker said revenue from the meters, estimated at $10,000 annually, provided ilttle profit for the city because of labor and repair costs.

Record War Fund Gains In Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The House Appropriations Committee today voted a record $70.3 billion for defense and conduct of the Vietnam war during the 12 months starting July 1. It said this probably would not be enough.

The money bill was the biggest single appropriation ever considered by Congress, although combined appropriations for Army and Navy — handled separately then — totaled about $86 billion one year at the height of World War II.

First issue of the Advance produced by the new company rolled off its 16-page Goss offset press a day late yesterday at 120 Mitchell Drive in Northgate Industrial Park, San Rafael.

Advance publication office will remain at 1068 Machin Avenue, Novato. That of Pacific Sun will remain at 1871 Fourth Street, San Rafael, where it has previously been printed on the offset press now owned by the new company.

The Goss lfatbed press formerly used by the Advance was moved to Point Reyes Station, where it will be used to print the Point Reyes Light, another weekly, owned by Don DeWolfe.

Bites From Snakes Grow

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (UPI) —Every year about 7,000 persons are bitten by snakes in this country and the figure is rising steadily as family camping and hiking gains in popularity, says a maker of first aid equipment.

Snakebite is one of the most frequent animal-inflicted injuries occurring in American wood and swamp lands, according to Johnson & Johnson. Rattlesnake bites are the most common; coral snake bites are the most rare, the company says. Experienced outdoorsmen recommend that family camping equipment include a comprehensive first aid kit which has a complete snakebite unit.

Rhoda Overruns Running Rodent

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Stenographer Rhoda Peterson was working at her desk when she gave her chair a shove and coasted toward a filing cabinet.

En-route she heard a loud squeak — and found she had run over a mouse.

Miss Patterson abandoned the office until a janitor assured her the accident victim was killed instantly.

WAR

and artillery on Israeli positions in the Sea of Galilee area.

It was the second truce violation reported today. Israeli armor was reported to have smashed a counterattack by Egyptian tanks trying to break out of encirclement in the Sinai Desert near the Suez Canal city of Ismailia. Peace was reported restored 2½ hours later.

From Cairo came word that the Suez Canal front—the main one in the four-day Middle East war—was silent after the Israelis had cracked positions west of the canal. Egypt accepted the cease-fire yesterday and Syria followed a few hours later.

The United States sought before today's session started, to have the council give guarantees for Israel, while the Soviet Union insisted Israel give up hundreds of square miles of Arab territory it overran.

SHIP

north of the Sinai peninsula in International waters.

Although it was mid-afternoon with good visibility, Pentagon officials said the Liberty was attacked without warning.

An Israeli military spokesman issued a statement last night declaring the ship bore no identification.

The Navy Department, however, said the ship was flying the U.S. flag, had her name on the stern, and identification numbers on the bow.

The raids on the lightly-armed Liberty caused a brief war scare in Washington when a rumor flashed through the Senate that a U.S. destroyer had been sunk in the tense middle east.

U. S. Considering An Oil Emergency

WASHINGTON (UPI) —U. S. officials today considered a petroleum industry appeal for a declaration of an oil emergency. The slowdown of oil from the Mideast because of the on-again, off-again war there threatens Britain and Western Europe with acute shortages.

The Foreign Petroleum Supply Committee, composed of representatives of 20 American companies, asked for an emergency declaration that would clear the way for them to work together without fear of anti-trust prosecution.

Preferential-Type Election Advances

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A bill setting up a presidential preferential primary election in California similar to those in Oregon and New Hampshire was approved today by a Senate committee.

The measure sponsored by Sen. Alfred E. Alquist, D-San Jose, now goes to the Senate Finance Committee.

PRESIDENT NASSER
Tells of losses

NASSER

the Mediterranean had aide the Israeli armed forces.

"We had expected to be hit from the south and east," Nasser said in reference to Israel. "But we were hit from the west."

Nasser was a colonel when the Egyptian army under Col. Naguib threw out King Farouk and ended the Egyptian monarchy. Two years later, Naguib was in oblivion and Nasser, mustachioed, blue-yed and with a brilliant smile, was in command of the Egyptian government.

Nasser was easily the most popular and powerful Arab leader in modern history.

Tall with an athletic build he was idolized by the Arab masses, feared by Arab monarchs, and viewed with a mixture of suspicion, annoyance and reluctant admiration by the leaders and peoples of both East and West.

Some saw in Nasser, the son of a post office clerk, the symbol of the emerging nations' desire for independence and stature in the modern world. Others regarded him as a demagogue, bent on fomenting war with Israel and plotting to overthrow governments he did not like. Some saw him as a shrewd opportunist with a masterful political instinct.

In his speech, Nasser praised the Egyptian armies for making "a great stand." They have "done a great job," he said.

Leydecker Has A Heart Attack

Bryon W. Leydecker, 39-year-old president of Redwood National Bank and former chairman of Marin County Board of Supervisors, has suffered a heart attack but was reported by his doctors today to be recovering "very rapidly."

He was listed in fair condition in the heart care unit of Marin General Hospital, allowed no visitors at present.

Leydecker was admitted to the hospital following the attack at 4:30 a.m. Monday. He is expected to be in the hospital for about two weeks.

Las Gallinas Sewer Board Views Budget

Directors of Las Gallinas Sanitary District last night adopted a tentative budget of $133,800 for next fiscal year, up $5,800 from the current total, and talked of cutting the tax rate by about 2 cents.

Budget increase items include a $2,500 retirement fund, $2,200 for purchase of a dump truck, and an increase of $2,775 for directors' pay.

The directors now receive $25 per meeting, but pending legislation would permit pay of $40 per meeting, district secretary Helen Foulkes explained.

Despite the departure June 30 of manager Gregory J. Hobbs, the district salary budget will remain about the same, allowing funds for consulting services. Directors will discuss this matter further at an adjourned meeting at 7:30 p.m., June 22.

Public hearing on the budget will be held at 7:30 p.m., July 13.

The district tax rate currently is 21 and 13 cents per $100 assessed valuation, depending on tax zone. In addition there is a $1 a month sewer service charge. Directors will work toward reduction of the sewer service charge in fiscal 1969, Mrs. Foulkes reported.

VOTE

checking the validity of their registration, particularly those who have changed residence.

She also said there is need to establish what is a proper challenge at the polls and what amounted to "electioneering" at the polls.

Matulich said he would confer with John F. Musser, director of elections in the county clerk's office, on a voter educational program.

Disatisfaction was expressed with lack of knowledge of voting regulations on the part of precinct inspectors and judges, who are supposed to be trained by the county clerk. Earl Carpenter of Bodega Bay said, "If people living in two counties are voting, I think it's pretty shoddy. If we need county officials at the polls, let's have them there."

Mrs. Straus and others complained bitterly of campaign methods of bond opponents. She said unsigned leaflets had charged that the southern portion of the district was not represented on the board. She called this untrue, noting that Richard Velloza Jr. lives at Point Reyes Station and Mrs. Adams at Inverness.

Matulich told the trustees that the Citizens Committee For the Bond Issue had retained a lawyer to advise it on getting a recount or throwing out the election.

The trustees closed discussion with a resolution thanking the citizens' committee for its hard work in the campaign.

Unruh's Wire Tap Bill Being Stalled

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh's bill to tighten California laws against wiretapping has run into a one-week stall in a Senate committee.

The Senate Judiciary Committee decided after two hours debate and testimony last night to put over Unruh's bill one week, in part to determine if the Speaker would agree to amendments.

Attorney General Appeals Ruling On Draft Cards

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department wants the Supreme Court to overturn a U.S. Circuit Court ruling permitting draft card burning as a form of protest protected by the First Amendment's free speech provision.

The Cicuit Court in Boston has ruled unconstitutional an amendment to the Selective Service Act forbidding draft card burning. But it added that draft card burners could be convicted under the Selective Service Act for failing to have their cards in their possession.

In it plea yesterday to the Supreme Court, the Justice Department contended that if Congress may require a draft registrant to carry his draft card, "it would appear that it may also forbid him to destroy or mutilate his card."

The case involves David P. O'Brien, 20 of Framingham, Mass., whose six-year sentence was overturned last April by the Boston court.

Ex-Marin Student Dies In Collision

Barbara Galt Cooney, secretary of Dominican College's freshman class in 1966, was killed last night with her husband of less than two months in a head-on auto collision in Lafayette that also took the lives of two others.

Victims were Mrs. Cooney; her husband, John; Mrs. Jose Brock, 41, and Mrs. Marie McLaughlin, 45, both of Berkeley.

Mrs. Thelma Johnson, 32, of Berkeley, was hospitalized in critical condition. She was riding with Mrs. Brock and Mrs. McLaughlin to Contra Costa Hospital in Martinez where the three were employed as attendants.

The California Highway Patrol said the Cooneys were travelling west on Route 24 near the Lafayette heliport when their sports car crossed the center line and hit the oncoming vehicle.

Mrs. Cooney, whose 20th birthday was today, and her husband, were married April 19 in Walnut Creek. He was a student at St. Mary's College in Moraga.

Mrs. Cooney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steward Galt of Houston, Tex., entered the college in San Rafael in the fall of 1965 and resided in Meadowlands Hall on the campus. She transferred last fall to Stanislaus State College in Turlock, leaving there this spring to be married.

The Role Of Minority Teacher In The State

LOS ANGELES (UPI)— One out of every 12 California teachers is from a minority group and these educators can be found mainly in urban schools of impoverished districts with heavy concentrations of minority students, a report disclosed today.

The findings were contained in the first state racial census of nearly 300,000 pblic school employes. It was presented to the California Board of Education.

By contrast, the report said, minority racial and ethnic groups account for one out of every four students in the state's public schools.

The survey was made last October to determine compliance with state policies prohibiting segregation and discrimination in schools and junior colleges.

"Our schools have not solved the problems of recruiting, assigning and promoting teachers of all races and ethnic backgrounds on an equal basis," said Armando Rodriguez, chief of the Department of Education's Intergroup Relations Bureau.

The survey showed that minority groups account for 8.5 per cent of the teachers, 4.2 4.2 per cent of the principals and assistant principals and 7.4 per cent of the other certified personnel such as superintendent and counselors.

Of the 193,404 persons in these categories, 91.8 per cent are Caucasians without Spanish surnames, 1.6 per cent Orientals, .2 per cent other noncan Indians.

In the eight largest districts which employ most of the minority group teachers, 85 per cent of the Negro teachers and 57 per cent of the Oriental teachers are in predominatnly whites and .1 per cent Ameriminority schoosl, Rodriguez said.

The survey also found:

There are no Negro educators in 22 of 58 counties and fewer than 10 in 13 counties.

Poverty areas schools rereceiving compensatory education funds have higher percentages of minority group teachers. In such elementary schools, Negroes comprise 31 per cent of the teachers compared to 2.4 per cent in the rest of the state's elementary schools.

Drunken Driving Fines For Two

Four drivers were sentenced in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for drunken driving.

Ruben Lloyd Coble, 28, of 130 Chase Street, Novato, was given five days in county jail, fined $289, and placed on 18 months probation. He was arrested May 13 by California Highway Patrol on Highway 101 and had a prior conviction.

Dewey Wayne Cleland, 43, of 614 Blackberry Lane, Marinwood, was fined $202 and placed on a year's probation. San Rafael police arrested him on Fourth Street Feb. 12.

Lyla Opal Bond, 49, of 8 Cresthaven, Santa Venetia, was fined $146 and placed on 18 months probation. The patrol arrested her May 27 on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Thomas Stewart, 43, of San Francisco, was fined $289, placed on 18 months probation, and given five days in jail. The patrol arrested him on Highway 37 on May 16.

Driver Fails To Show In Court

An 18-year-old sailor, charged with manslaughter in a Saturday traffic accident which killed a companion, yesterday failed to appear in Marin Municipal Court for arraignment.

Warrant for arrest of Kenneth Wayne Bennett of Old Fort, Tenn., had already been issued.

Bennett is accused of driving in access of 85 miles an hour when his car crashed into a Highway 101 abutment north of San Rafael.

A passenger, Michael R. Baker of Mount Vernon, N.Y., was killed.

County To Slice Retirement Funds

County contribution to the employees' retirement fund in Marin will drop from 11.71 to 8.94 per cent of the total payroll, according to the results of an actuarial study reported to the Marin County Retirement Board.

This means a reduction of 23 per cent in the county contribution, said Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, a member of the retirement board. In figuring the budget for next fiscal year, county administrator Alan Bruce had assumed a 20 per cent reduction.

Lower Larkspur School Tax Is Probable Thing

Larkspur School District trustees agreed last night that the district's $3.58 tax rate can probably be reduced by 4 to 7 cents in fiscal 1968.

Supt. Milton S. Cohen earlier this week predicted a decrease of 3 to 4 cents. The board learned that the county auditor's office has estimated district assessed valuation will increase by about 12 per cent in fiscal 1968.

The board awarded a contract for paving at San Clemente School to low bidder James T. Thornton Co. of San Rafael at $6,095, and a contract for painting at Neil Cummins school to low bidder Larry Gates Painting Co. of San Rafael at $9,840.

The Larkspur School District Board also:

FEDERAL FUNDS — Learned that an additional $2,900 has been received in federal funds to be used for books, tapes, and equipment for special instruction in reading and mathematics.

NARCOTICS, SEX INSTRUCTION — Learned that increased instruction on narcotics, sex and family life will begin next year in health and physical education classes for all grades.

GARDENER — Approved hiring a half-time gardener, starting in September at $2,150 a year.

BOARD MEETINGS — Set summer board meeting dates for July 6 and Aug. 3, at 8 p.m. in the district office.

TEACHERS — Accepted the resignation of district psychologist Lynn Jenks, granted a leave of absence to teacher Jeanne Keller, and hired Osborn Howes as a teacher.

$1,220 Conservation Budget Wins Approval

Marin County Soil Conservation District directors, meeting last night at the Grandi Co. Building at Point Reyes Station, approved a $1,220 budget for next year.

Enrollment as cooperators in the district's work program were Peter Dolcini with 1,000 acres in Hicks Valley and L. D. Howard with 50 acres in Nicasio.

Ex-Fireman Found Dead At His Home

Matthew John Hart, 83, former assistant chief of the San Rafael Fire Department, was found dead in his back yard at 526 C Street yesterday afternoon, an apparent suicide victim.

Coroner Donovan O. Cooke reported that Hart had been in failing health for some time and was apparently despondent.

He was found shot through the head, a .22 caliber single-shot rifle lying between his legs. San Rafael police, who investigated, said Hart's daughter, Mrs. Bernadette Gallaven, with whom Hart lived, found the body in the yard at 12:45 p.m.

A neighbor, Theresa Pinza, who lives on Treanor Street, reported she heard a shot at about 9:30 a.m.

Hart's wife, Marie G., died in 1952.

Minor Injuries In Commuter Accident

Three persons suffered minor injuries yesterday at 4:50 p.m. when two cars collided in commute traffic on Highway 101 at Alto Hill.

As a northbound car driven by Henry Wilbur Symmes, 46, of 6 Woodhue Lane, Corte Madera, slowed for traffic ahead, it was struck from behind by one driven by Donna Jean Wayne, 21, of 148 King Street, Larkspur, reported the California Highway Patrol. Symmes was treated at Marin General Hospital for neck strain; his wife, Eileen, for chest cuts. Miss Wayne told patrolmen she would see her own doctor.

Positive Minority Hiring Plan Sought

The Marin County Human Rights Commission last night called on county supervisors to encourage positive minority hiring policies by all public employers in Marin, and suggested holding a seminar where such programs cound be discussed.

The commission also went of record against any modification of the State Fair Housing Law, asking for support from supervisors, commission executive officer Robert B. Brauer reported.

The commission requested that the Marin County Planning Commission and Planning Department be represented at the next commission meeting on July 13 to discuss the possibility that existing planning requiremtnes are discouraging minority housing.

Brauer, who will leave his job June 30, urged formation of human rights commissions in the cities.

James Quiett was re-elected commission chairman and Bella H Aaron was named vice chairman, replacing Richard Harding. Quiett, Mrs. Aaron and Arthur Brown were named to the commission executive committee. Charles B. Weers was named chairman of the education committee; Harding, chairman of the employment committee, and William Moon, chairman of the housing committee.

Make Rafferty Job Appointive, Consultant Says

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — A national consulting firm has completed a $198,000 study and recommended that the state superintendent of public instruction be appointed by a board of education appointed by the governor.

At present, the superintendetn is elected by the people and the board appointed by the governor. But the superintendent, in addition to being director of the department of education, serves as executive officer to the board, the consultant Arthur D. Little, Inc., of Cambridge, Mass., points out.

A change in the constitution would be required if the superintendent were to be appointed. Any proposed change would not affect Dr. Max Rafferty, present elected superintendent.

License Planned

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Unless written protest is filed, the Contractors State License Board announced today it will issue a general contracting license June 26 to B. A. R. C. Builders, Inc., Bernard A. Harris, 35 Joseph Court, San Rafael.

College Board Defines Academic Freedom

Marin Junior College District trustees last night approved an academic freedom statement that allows for controversy in teaching, but not indoctrination.

The statement prepared by the Academic Senate lists four freedoms and accompanying obligations attached to each freedom.

The instructor is entitled to freedom in the presentation of his subject. "He is encouraged to pioneer in imaginative and provocative teaching techniques and to challenge his students to critical thinking through the use of controversy and the exchange of ideas," the statement reads.

It also notes that instructors have opinions and some exposure of these opinions in the classroom is often unavoidable. "Such opinions should be no more harmful to the student than any of the other diverse opinions to which he will be and should be exposed," it says.

The instructor's freedom to utilize controversy and expose his views "shall not be construed as freedom to indoctrinate his students in his personal beliefs at the expense of the higher educational goals to which he is committed," the statement continues.

The second freedom is that of determining the content of courses, within course outlines, education code requirements and college goals, and to determine standards for grading.

The third freedom is freedom to conduct research and publish results, subject to adequate performance of classroom responsibilities and restrictions on the use of school facilities.

Under the fourth freedom "the instructor is free to engage in activities and discussions outside his specific subject area." This shall be contingent upon the instructor first fulfilling his primary responsibility to teach his subject and shall be subject to any restrictions imposed by the state education code, the statement said.

The Academic Senate will judge any alleged infringements of freedoms and "make appropriate recommendations for administrative action."

Marin Junior College Trustees Also:

NON/CREDIT COURSES — Approved changing to the quarter system for non-credit courses, boosted the fees $1 per course, approved six new courses for this fall, waived the fees for "Keeping Your Cool in a Hot World," a lecture course on mental health, and "Looking Forward to Your Retirement," and refused to waive fees for "Retail Sales Training for Pre-Christmas Employment," except for those referred by the state employment service, the Marin County Department of Social Services or comparable agency.

DUES DEDUCTIONS — Approved monthly payroll deduction for membership dues in the American Federation of Teachers and California Teachers Association.

FOOD CONTRACT — Ratified a contract of the Associated Students of the College of Marin with Ara-Slater Co. of Philadelphia, Pa., to provide food service at the student center for costs of operation and 5 per cent of the gross, with the Associated Students to get the excess.

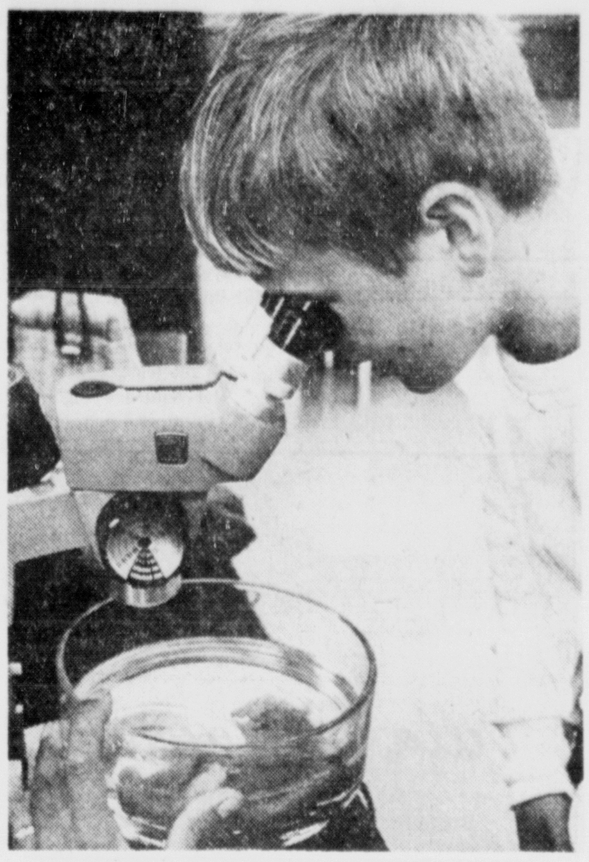
JOB RECLASSIFIED — Gave Michael Hansen, administrative assistant for government projects, additional duties in institutional research, and boosted his salary from $12,670 to $14,000 a year, effective July 1.

REAL ESTATE FUND — Approved a contract with the State Division of Real Estate whereby the district will receive $1,035 for offering real estate courses.

EMPLOYMENT — Hired Barbara Ann Smith as secretary to supervisor of construction and plant operation, at $430 a month; Joseph Machado, custodian, $480, and Peter Portugal, as fulltime audio-visual technician, at $450.

CONSULTANT FEE — Approved payment of $50 a conference in consultant fees to William K. Ramstad for the period March 2 through June 30. Ramstad, assistant superintendent of Palo Alto Unified School District, will become president of the college July 1.

SALARIES — Referred to the board's salary committee a request to boost the salary schedule for part-time teachers $1 an hour, and a request from the non-teaching employees to review their salary proposal. They had sought a 5 per cent pay raise; the board granted them 2 per cent last month.



FASCINATION IN MICROSCOPE

Tim Halbrud from Penngrove School in Sonoma County is fascinated by star-fish highly magnified in stereoscope at College of Marin's Bolinas marine station. Council To Discuss San Rafael's Budget

San Rafael city councilmen will start discussion Monday night of a proposed $3,508,508 tentative budget, down $246,259 from this year's budget.

There are very few personnel additions in the tentative budget, just one police officer and two firemen, and they are almost balanced by the reduction of two building inspectors.

Councilmen are scheduled to start with discussion of police and fire department budgets, which do not indicate any major changes.

The proposed police budget is $551,003, up $35,003 from this year with $1,525 for capital outlay. Proposed equipment for the police department includes a dictation machine, a 35-millimeter camera, and electric adding machine, and an electric typewriter.

The proposed fire department budget is $639,439, down $9,664 from this year. The department's total last year included $42,400 for capital improvement, but nothing is specified in that category this year. Salaries in the fire department are slated to increase from $548,939 this year to $588,214 in 1967-68.

The capital outlay for the fire department totals $7,900 including $5,100 for 3,400 feet of hose. Other equipment listed are a four-door sedan, rescue saw, 8-millimeter camera, slide projector, and carpenter lights.

The capital outlay budget totals $86,006, with the major portion, $66,676, in the parking district account for payments on parking meter heads and bond retirement.

Other items listed are a pickup truck for street maintenance, $2,000; a machine for street painting, $1,500, and a spray rig for parks, $1,700.

The capital outlay listed for the library totals $1,500, consisting of a typewriter, catalogue stand, shelving, record bind, file cabinets, microfilm cabinet and intercommunication unit.

Listed for the finance department are an electric statistical typewriter, $600, and a dictating unit, $300.

Traffic Death Rate Is Down

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's traffic deaths have taken a sharp drop in the first four months of 1967 in comparison to corresponding periods last year.

The April death toll was 3,920, compared to 4,360 deaths in April 1966. The four-month total for 1967 was 14,710. This compared with 15,020 last year, a dip of 2 per cent.

A spokesman for the National Safety Council said the 10 per cent dropp in April is "not as good as it looks at first glance."

He noted that last year's April toll was up 19 per cent from April 1965.

Drake Elects New Officers In Run-Off

Jeff Lambert of Fairfax defeated Joan Diamond of San Anselmo by 32 votes to become new student body president of Sir Francis Drake High School.

Voting was held in a Wednesday run-off election. A second run-off will be held Monday for sophomore class treasurer, the election being necessitated by a "foul-up" where names of two candidtaes were placed on the ballot side by side to appear as if they were running as a team. Candidates are Annette Lareau, Toni Mazzio, Julie Mensing and Theresa Reily.

No vote tallies other than for president, were announced.

Injuries Minor In Rival Gang Clash

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A broken police car window and a minor injury were the only reported consequences today of a street fight between two rival Negro gangs, police said.

Police broke up the fight in the mainly Negro-populated Oak Park residential area near the downtown Sacramento business area. They had no explanation of the fight's cause but said there had been similar, less extensive problems there in the past.

$3.5 Million Budget Goes To Board; No Tax Hike

A tentative general fund budget of $3,498,834 for fiscal 1968 was presented to the Marin Junior College District Board last night, but there was no discussion.

Acting President Irwin P. Diamond said the budget will be discussed by the board at its next meeting, June 22.

Business Mgr. Norman Bird estimated the tax rate will be about 77 cents per 100 assessed valuation, the same as for this year.

The general fund budget does not include the college building program, which is listed at an additional $3,198,282 for fiscal 1968.

The tentative budget is $59,439 higher than the estimated general fund expenditures for this year, but $714,006 lower than this year's budget.

The bulk of the general fund expenditure, $2,557,860, is listed under instruction, with teachers' salaries accounting for $1,998,932.

With addition of the Tomales High School District to the junior college district, Bird estimated the assessed valuation will reach $508,149,190, up $42,947,180 from the 1966-67 assessed valuation. He estimated the district would gain $14,148,830 assessed valuation from the Tomales area and $28,708,350 from a 6 per cent increase district-wide.

DINING OUT AND INNS

by HARRY CRAFT

Don't Ask, West End Villa's Cannelloni - A Guarded Secret

Some people go to Bill and Adolph's West End Villa, San Rafael, just for the cannelloni — which is the envy of many a chef. And don't think they haven't tried to find out how it is made. Diners, too.

Me — I know better than to ask, and so does my wife. Something like that is a restaurant's private stock in trade. As well ask to see the company's books and day's cash receipts — you have a better chance than prying open a favorite recipe. You may get some of the general details — but the one ingredient that makes it different is withheld.

This West End cannelloni is either excellent as an appetizer or as the main dish.

A good bet on the menu now is the "Mrs. Steak" — a filet Mignon, butterflied and flambe'd. Large enough for most anyone of either sex, but if you have a strong masculine appetite, the "Mr." steak will leave you gasping.

It's a comfortable feeling to see Nino Musso at the West End bar. He's capable and one of the fastest at his trade.

I know — I said a few weeks ago the outside patio was being readied for lunch and dinner al fresco. But the weather fouled me up and became too fresco, also rainy. So just watch the thermometer and make your own determination when the time is ripe.

NEW OWNERS Ross and Danni Post got off to a busy start at the Gibson House in Bolinas. First of all, they increased their family by one baby girl a week ago yesterday — she and mother were expected home today.

Meanwhile Ross opened for dinners last night and come what may the Gibson House will be on a seven-days-a-week schedule. Brunches are being served from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. — all kinds of soups, sandwiches, club sandwiches and omelets. Dinner service will begin about 5:30 or 6 p.m.

There's an extensive dinner menu: Coq au vin, chicken cordon bleu, wienerschnitzel, beef Stroganoff, London broil, charcoal broiled steaks and fillets — and quite a selection of seafoods: Crab legs, frog legs Chablis, oysters diable, coquille St. Jacques, swordfish amandine, poached salmon steak and lox and creamed cheese. I may have missed a few.

As I understand it, the complete dinner price range starts at $4.25 and stops at $5.75.

Entertainment Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings.

OAK TREE INN, San Geronimo, which has been held open for dinner only on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays recently, has gone on a lengthier summer schedule, adding Monday and Tuesday nights. On those two nights, diners ordering the complete dinner will be entitled to a cocktail with their meal.

Harry Zimlin from Australia is chef here now, so if you have a favorite dish from "down under" make it known and he may be able to take care of you. He does have at least one special every weekend. Dining room has been done over and occasionally there is weekend entertainment.

If a poker-faced proprietor Ray Brunal, who is behind the bar most of the time, seems most unhappy with his lot — he really isn't. It's just hard for him to pull the face muscles into a smile. I'll tell you one thing — try your favorite joke on him. If it brings out the sunshine, you'll know it's a good one.

ONDINE PARTNERS George Gutekunst and Alfred Roblin, together with Ondine maitre d' Gilbert Barthe and John Hamilton, another Marinite, have taken on another project besides what they have now. They have signed a lease for the new Mirabeau restaurant at the Kaiser Center in Oakland.

Actually Gilbert and John will be spending their full time over there as resident-managers. George will be acting in an advisory capacity and chef Alfred Roblin will be responsible for staffing the kitchen and seeing that its output matches Ondine's in quality.

Located on the third floor of the 20th Street mall overlooking the Kaiser Center three-acre roof garden, the Mirabeau will seat about 130 in the main dining room and have three private dining rooms as well as a cocktail lounge. A private elevator from the first floor entrance of the mall will go direct to the restaurant's foyer.

This has been cooking for a number of months — I'm glad to hear that it has been consummated. With all the publicity Ondine has enjoyed, the Mirabeau should prove to be a popular dinery when it opens in October.

FLEUR DE FRANCE INN, new name for San Rafael's venerable Mission Inn, is closed for remodeling and is expected to open its dining room about June 17. The bar will get under way sooner than that as the license has already been transferred. Probably this weekend.

New owners Jeanne Mocho and Michel Juantorena plan to keep bar and dining room pretty well separated. The latter may have a small service bar of its own and will be so changed in appearance you won't recognize it. A seven-days-a-week schedule is proposed, at least at the beginning, with both lunches and dinners served. An appeal will be made to the family crowd.

Menu is now under preparation, but will be similar to that of the Fleur de France on Geary Boulevard, San Francisco. I understand some Marinites have gone over there for a preview. The French-Basque touch will be given to such entrees as roast beef and pot roast, veal parmigiana and scallopini, frog legs, cannelloni, coq au vin, beef bourguignon, chicken a la Basquaise, steaks — and a Fleur de France specialty, calves' sweetbreads financiere. Another planned entree is canard a l'orange. Party room in the rear will be fixed up for group affairs.

EUGENE'S COUNTRY CLUB RESTAURANT and the entire Country Club Bowl in San Rafael will be a beehive of teenpage activity next Thursday night from about 11 p.m. when the entire graduating class of about 200 of San Mateo High School moves in for its last frolic.

It will be an all night affair with buffet dinner, dancing and entertainment and breakfast in the morning. So don't count on any late evening games with the pins that night. If you're accustomed to breakfasting at Eugene's on Friday morning, I'm sure the whole crowd will have dispersed by regular opening time at 7 a.m.

A AND W SNACK SHOP in the Nave Shopping Center, sold last March by Hugh Wilcox, has taken a new lease on life under the new ownership of Betty French and Marjorie Dufour of San Rafael.

They have cleaned it up, added new soft drink equipment, installed air conditioning, dressed up the patio and embellished the menu with chicken salad, sandwiches, pies and other offerings. Try also their hamburger with onion rings — which is expected to become a perennial favorite.

Betty used to handle Gordon Walker's snack bars in the Value World stores and has had some good qualifying experience. Marjorie was formerly with Wells Fargo Bank and also with Bob Linscott.

Hours have been changed and are now from 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. through the week (later on Friday and Saturday nights) and from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. Sundays.

Bolinas-Stinson Graduation Set

Bolinas-Stinson School District will graduate 16 eighth-grade pupils on June 15 at 8 p.m. in Bolinas Community Center.

Main speaker will be Dr. Herbert L. Zettl of Forest Knolls, associate professor of radio, television and film at San Francisco State College. He will speak on the importance of continuing education.

Principal Keith Oveson will introduce Dr. Zettl, and will present the principal's award.

The American Legion will present a student with an Americanism Award.

Bus Drivers Accept Hike

OAKLAND (UPI)—East Bay bus drivers have accepted a new contract boosting their pay from $3.31 an hour to $3.91 in three years.

The ratification ended a contract dispute that nearly resulted in a strike which would have affected 180,000 commuters in Alameda, Contra Costa and San Francisco counties.

Members of the Amalgamated Transit Union voted 646-495 yesterday to accept the contract. The pay package was believed to be the largest settlement this year in the nationwide transit industry.

High Taxes Called Landowners' Fault

Marin County supervisors yesterday put a good share of the blame on property owners for the rising costs of local government.

Property owners were told they:

1. Failed to attend budget meetings at county, city, school and special district levels where their influence would balance the pleading of special interests who turn out in force.

2. Discouraged business from locating in Marin by raising the price of land as soon as interest in buying it is shown.

3. Made no effort to attract industry by investing in their land to prepare it for industrial use.

The supervisors made their views known at Nero's Restaurant in Ignacio, where they were guests of the Marin Property Owners Association at a noon luncheon attended by about 80 persons.

Supervisor John F. McInnis set the stage by noting that Marin has the reputation of not welcoming industry. The result he said, is lack of revenue-generating industry and an undue burden on the property tax rolls.

In the absence of industry, McInnis siad, "We are not a wealthy county. We are a county of wealthy people."

Supervison William A. Gnoss then made the point about property owners raising the price of land as soon as a potential buyer showed up. "Land values in Marin are extremely high," he said.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr said much of the blame should "be put on the shoulders of you land holders, who have large acreage . . . and don't improve it for industry."

Behr said, "Ninety per cent of the flat land (in Marin) is spongy and needs fill." He urged property owners to fill and develop for industrial parks, asserting that industry wants to be able to move in on land that is prepared for it.

Gnoss stressed that much of the tax burden on property is a result of rising salaries at every level of government. He said that 60 per cent of the tax dollar goes to schools, and said property owners should attend budget sessions of school districts and every other official body.

Gnoss noted that yesterday's luncheon came in the middle of the first day devoted to county salary discussions. The employees have a representative "who took over an hour in the morning asking for higher salaries and longer vacations," he commented.

McInnis recommended that county budgeting precedure be reversed so salaries are discussed after services to be provided by the county have been established.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen recommended that capital improvements, particularly park acquisition, be financed by bond issues.

Supervisor Thomas T. Storer cited statistics to show that cost of government in Marin is lower than in many of the state's 57 counties. Fifty counties, he said, have higher budgets per capita; 3 have a higher property tax per capita and only 19 have a lower tax.

Motorcycle Stolen

Randolph H. Holt of 42 Sonora Way, Corte Madera, told Larkspur police yesterday that his motorcycle was stolen from the Bon Air Shopping Center Tuesday. It is a 1966 Yamaha, red and white, license number 490,-858.

Astronomy Trips

Star Observers of Marin, an amateur astronomy study group, will visit an observatory on the evening of June 17 and have a star observing session June 29, M. D. Beck of 170 Hillside Avenue, San Rafael, reported.

Alcoholism Seminar Slated At Hospital

"Newer Concepts in the Treatment of Alcoholics" will be discussed tomorrow at 9 a.m. at Marin General Hospital.

The program, sponsored by the hospital and Marin Medical Scoiety, will be held in the Coral Room with Dr. Norman Carigg of Mill Valley as chairman. It is designated for doctors and others involved in medical science.

Dr. David H. Knott and James D. Beard, both of the University of Tennessee, will discuss "The Physiological and Pharmacological Approach to the Disease of Alcoholism," and Dr. David Rubsamen, former director of the Adult Guildance Center, San Francisco, will speak on "A Lawyer-Doctor Looks at Alcoholism."

Other speakers will be Dr. Fred G. Hudson, director of the Presbyterian Medical Center Alcoholism Clinic, San Francisco, and Daniel Meyerson of the Marin Institute of Alcoholism in San Rafael.

Sausalito Happening Ends Up In Hospital

An unidentified woman, nude from the waist down and apparently "high" on LSD, was committed last night by Sausalito police to Napa State Hospital after she was found wandering on Second Street at about 9:30 p.m.

The woman, 35 to 40, was in "a trance-like condition, with eyes closed and unable to respond to questions," officers said. There was so sign of violence or injury, they reported.

Kenneth Garwick is president of Corte Madera Optimists Club.

Bigger Budget To Fight Mosquitos

Marin County Mosquito Abatement District directors last night approved a fiscal 1968 budget of $127,484, up $13,571 from this year.

District Mgr. G. Paul Jones said, however, the district tax rate of two-and-a-half cents per $1,000 of assessed valuation would hold because of recent annexation of marshland in southwestern Sonoma County, including the City of Petaluma, and because of increased valuation in Marin.

Jones said the budget rise is due to a 6.8 increase in employees' salaries, plans to buy new equipment, and higher costs in airplane spraying of marshland.

The board also approved a one-year contract with Medlock Dusters of Davis for aerial spraying at $60 an hour, or about 30 cents per acre.

Jones reported handling 823 service requests during May.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Self-Restraint Imposed By Magazine Solicitors

The Better Business Bureau of San Francisco, which serves Marin County, has traditionally operated on the theory that suggestion and persuasion is better than coercion.

It is once again using that technique in encouraging ethical practices in magazine selling.

Charles R. Thurber of Terra Linda, executive vice president of the Better Business Bureau, announces that the BBB is joining with an assocation of magazine agencies in setting up a system of self-regulation in door-to-door sales.

"The owners of local agency franchises pledged strong action against any assocation dealer who uses a misleading sales pitch," Thurber reports. "They feel it is beneficial to their subscribers and to business in general to help raise the ethical level of selling and services."

Among the standards set up by the association of magazine agencies are guides on telephone solicitations, company identification, cancellation privileges, and a ban on implications of "free" magazines. Claims of saving money must be clarified, and sales to minors are discouraged.

Robert Cook, president of the association, says each dealer is firmly behind the program. He invites the public to help by buying only from those who use ethical selling and suggests that the subscriber contact the Better Business Bureau if misleading presentation is received.

Although most magazine salesmen in Marin have been ethical, there are always a few who resort to high pressure tactics that are irritating and misleading.

The system of self-regulation worked out between the Better Business Bureau and the association of magazine agencies is aimed at clamping down on this unethical few.

This effort by the industry, in cooperation with the Better Business Bureau, to impose self-restraint is commendable.

The Marin public can cooperate in this endeavor by reporting unethical and misleading sales pitches to the Better Business Bureau, 414 Mason Street, San Francisco.

The 'Fiendish' Scorpion

Because Nature armed the Scorpion with a poisoned lance in its tail, it is unjustly regarded as one of the most ferocious, most loathsome beasts in Marin's Grassblade Jungle.

Yet, the scorpion is quick to take flight, slow to anger, partially blind, partially, if not totally deaf, very stupid and very frail, being unable to stand even modest extremes of heat or cold.

Having debunked him a bit, we might add: Don't step on one with a bare foot. Not too common here, but it pays to be a bit cautious, if one knows they are around.

MARIN POLITICAL VIEWS

Is Reagan Team Preparing For Nationide Campaign?

By WAT TAKESHITA

Takeshita

It's been almost two months since Tom C. Reed of Ross resigned as appointments secretary to Governor Reagan and left Sacramento.

But Reed is still keeping in close touch with the Governor's inner circle at the Capitol. He quietly slips in and out of the Governor's office, conferring with executive secretary Phil Battaglia, press secretary Lyn Nofziger, and Reagan's other top lieutenants.

It could be that Reed's organizational talent (he master-minded the Northern California campaign for Reagan last year) is being tapped for bigger things, just in case the Reagan boom carries him into the national picture.

NEXT WEDNESDAY, Governor Reagan will speak at a $100-per-plate dinner at the Cow Palace. R. C. Broomhead of Ross is spearheading the campaign to get a big Marin representation at the dinner.

One half the proceeds of the dinner will stay in Marin to help local Republican candidates in the 1968 races.

AS FAR AS we can gather, the Assembly budget bill that passed this week includes $189,500 for razing of structures on Angel Island to make the area safer for public recreation.

The Administration tried to knock this amount out of the budget and put it back into the general fund, but the Assembly Ways and Means Committee restored this outlay, along with scores of others.

IF THE POLITICAL climate isn't hot enough for you as yet, just wait for Novato's Western Weekend celebration June 21 to 25. The Concerned Democrats of Marin are preparing something really hot — a taco booth, with hot sauces concocted by Anna Chavez, who is famous for her skill in preparing genuine Mexican food.

Olive Lewis and John Rios are in charge of the taco booth.

Warden Lawrence E. Wilson, who has been succeeded at San Quentin by Louis S. Nelson, is being lined up for a job as a deputy director at the State Department of Corrections in Sacramento. In job prestige, it can be classified a "promotion," but the pay will remain about the same — $23,000 per year or thereabouts.

THE STATEWIDE Executive Committee of the Republican Party will meet tomorrow in Sacramento. Among participants will be Norman Livermore of San Rafael, administrator of the Resources Agency, one of the luncheon speakers; and Sen. Jack McCarthy, who will make a "report from the Legislature."

AMERICANS FOR Constitutional Action, a conservative organization, presented the distinguished service award again this year to Congressman Don H. Clausen for his voting record in Congress. This is the third such award presented to Clausen by ACA.

TONIGHT'S THE big meeting of the Conference for New Politics at Olney Hall, College of Marin, starting at 8 p.m. Opposition to the Vietnam war is expected to be the main theme of the speakers. They'll be looking for a leader to carry the peace banner in the 1968 elections.

Let's Face It: Old Times Are Long Gone

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Fifty years ago those entering this delightful area were probably received by the then old time residents with the same attitude exhibited by the now old timers.

Is there some way to convince such diehards the good old days, if there ever was such a thing, are gone. We are not going to stop people from moving into this area. Sitting and complaining about the changes we are experimenting is not going to solve any problems. New people require more houses, sewers, roads and everything else that go with people.

Why do some want to sit and complain about the loss of the old two lane dangerous roads of their younger days. If we still had them they would be the first to complain of the inconveniences. Why stop at condemning the new roads? Why don't we really take a step backward and put the police, fire, flood control, sewage treatment and all the other governmental services back to the level of the 1920's.

I am quite sure the complainers as well as the rest of us would be all moving out together as we surely couldn't possibly tolerate the level of services that go with the ideas suggested by those who appear to be righteously infringed upon.

Couple Against Anti-Poverty War

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In regards to the anti-poverty program, my wife and I are absolutely opposed to any and all phases of the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964, for the same reasons that we are opposed to socialism. This bill presents an unnecessary burden on the already overburdened taxpayer, who is headed for poverty, himself, by unwillingly passing along the greater percentage of even a substandard income.

We ourselves know of many instances where non-deserving families and unwilling workers are being handed our hard-earned money, causing our bills to go unpaid and our living standard to remain below normal.

We urgently support the discontinuance of the anti-poverty program and a federal investigation into the burden of its support to the average wage earner.

No Need To Be Bored With Life; Try Eloping With Neighbor's Wife

NEW YORK (AP) — "What'll I do?" children often ask on a rainy day.

They are in a funk. Their powers of invention and imagination have deserted them, leaving them desperately bored.

Grownups, too, sometimes find themselves in the same plight. Monotony turns their lives into one long, rainy day, and they don't quite know what to do with themselves.

This is ironically sad, for, of course, there are many wonderful things worth doing if they'd just turn on their brain power and think a bit. Why not, for example, take a vacation and try to make a few of the forgotten daydreams of their youth come true?

Here is a guide list of possible goals, built around the mental escapes of many an office swivel chair daydreamer:

Buy an ugly, discarded thoroughbred foal with a group of pals and see if you can't turn him into a Kentucky Derby winner.

Take up karate and see what happens, after a month of training, when you try to break a brick with the side of your hand.

Write Lyndon Johnson and ask him point-blank either to invite you to a White House dinner or declare publicly that you are a social disaster area.

Get out all of the Christmas gift neckties you've hidden in your closet for the last 25 years and have then converted into a sports shirt. You'll be amazed at how the girls at the beach will go for you.

Build a better mousetrap and see how long it will take for the world to beat a path to your door. If that doesn't get any results, build a do-it-yourself love nest and see what happens.

Carry a St. Bernard dog up the steps of the Washington Monument on the Fourth of July. It has never been done, and you should hit every front page in the country.

Become the first fellow in your neighborhood to drive around your local supermarket in a motorized shopping cart.

Swim the English channel underwater. Anybody, of course, can now do it on the surface.

Paint a picture by using your cat's tail as a brush and offer it for exhibit in a dozen modern art galleries. At least six should be willing to show it.

Go over Niagara Falls in a pontoon-equipped baby buggy. Nobody has tried it all spring.

Memorize the first 12 pages of the Encyclopedia Britannica. You can win a lot of bets by reciting them verbatim at cocktail parties.

Borrow your neighbor's all-purpose credit card, then run away with his wife. He may let you use the credit card forever if you promise not to bring back his wife.

Boredom? There's no reason for anybody to let his life become humdrum. All you need is the courage to turn your daydreams into reality.

"YOU'RE SICKER than you think," a doctor warned an ailing candy manufacturer, "and I want you to go right to the hospital in an ambulance. I'll meet you there as soon as I get rid of another patient." The doctor made it to the hospital just in time to see the ambulance drive up — but instead of the sick man climbing out, it was his wife. "Didn't you realize this ambulance was for your husband?" asked the doctor. "I tried to tell her," broke in the husband, who had just come tottering on the scene, "but one word led to another, and, as usual, I came on the bus."

FCC Opens A Pandora's Box On Replies To Commercials

WASHINGTON — The usually cautious, don't-stir-things-up Federal Communications Commission has really stirred things up this time.

There are fascinating and far-reaching potential consequences of the FCC's decision — the decision that radio and television stations must provide substantial time to answer controversial cigarette advertising.

THIS DECISION is to the air waves what the Supreme Court ruling on one-man, one-vote is to politics — it is going to be felt everywhere and in ways which cannot immediately be foreseen.

The FCC has taken only one step. It has applied its doctrine of "fair treatment" only to cigarette commercials by ruling that stations which carry such advertising must also broadcast spot announcements, programs, and news items concerning the possible perils of cigarette smoking.

But this is only the beginning. The ruling that the stations must give free time to reply to cigarette advertising will have to be extended to other commercials if the FCC is to have a coherent and logical policy. Obviously if the "doctrine of fairness" applies to one kind of controversial commercial, it will in the end have to apply to others.

A FORMAL complaint was lodged with the FCC against a New York City station (WCBS — TV) under the fairness doctrine. It contended that the station had a duty to make "equal time" available to "responsible groups" for presentation of the case against cigarette smoking.

The FCC agreed substantially and disagreed only in not requiring "equal time" for the answers which, it said, could well come from the American Cancer Society or the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. It ruled that it would be enough for each station to provide a "significant amount of time."

But there are bound to be other complaints and further decisions. It is hard to see how the commission can rule that, while one aspect of controversial advertising requires making time available for reply, another doesn't.

Let me illustrate:

WHEN AIRLINES advertise jet flights, responsible public groups may want to voice their complaints of the noise.

When manufacturers advertise, responsible public groups may want to reply to get support to fight air and water pollution which the factories produce.

Responsible people may want to warn against health hazards of drugs as well as smoking.

Selective Service opponents or pacifists may feel they deserve air time to reply to military recruiting and other Armed Forces programs.

I AM NOT saying that the FCC will have to guarantee radio and TV time to every dissenting group which asks for it, but I am suggesting that it will not be able to halt its "fairness doctrine" at cigarette advertising only. There are bound to be logical extensions and the impact on public debate will be far-reaching and may well be very healthy.

It is wise not to make equal time mandatory. I think it is a mistake for the FCC to have made equal time mandatory in election campaigns since, in forcing the stations to give all candidates, however trivial, equal time, it prevents the networks from giving the major candidates any free time at all for debate and discussion.

The FCC applied the rule of reason in the case of cigarette advertising.

IT OUGHT to apply the same in the case of politics.

Foreign Aid Secrecy Exposed By Congress

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The Johnson Administration is still refusing to tell Congress how many hundreds of millions of dollars have been dished out to foreign countries in the guise of so-called development loans despite an express limitation on the number of such grants.

Rep. Vernon Thomson, R-Wis., member of the Foreign Affairs Committee, after persistent inquiring has finally obtained a list of the 29 foreign beneficiaries — 19 more than authorized in last year's foreign aid act.

BUT THE AMOUNTS given these countries have been withheld as "classified information." It runs into hundreds of millions of dollars, as the total for development lending in the current foreign aid act is some $618 million.

Section 201(b) of this law specifically states: "Funds made available . . . shall not be used to make loans in more than 10 countries . . . except that such loans may be made in additional countries after at least 30 days shall have elapsed following the submission by the President to the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of report stating that the making of loans in such additional countries is in the national interest and giving his reasons therefor."

THE FIRST time Congress learned that 19 additional countries had gotten millions in handouts was in January, when the President notified the lawmakers that this had already been done. Not only did he disregard the required 30-day advance notice, but he lumped all 19 additional grants in one declaration.

The crucial information on how many millions each got was declared secret, because disclosure would "cause difficulties between the U.S. and the beneficiaries because some got more than others."

The extra nations: Afghanistan; Cameroon; Ceylon; Chad; Congo (Kinshasa); Dahomey; Ethiopia; Ghana; India; Israel; Jordan; Kenya; Korea; Liberia; Malagasy Republic; Mali; Morocco; Nigeria; Pakistan; Philippines; Rawanda; Sierra Leone; Somali Republic; Sudan; Tanzania; Thailand; Tunisia; Turkey; Uganda.

President Johnson's new $3.1 billion foreign aid budget is now pending before the Foreign Affairs Committee. It is likely to be sharply cut.

PREDICTIONS — The Central Intelligence Agency will be extensively reorganized and given a new name. Plans for this are in process of being drafted. . . . Under a strong recommendation made by the Interior Department, Russia will be excluded from bidding on three giant electric generation units for Grand Coulee Dam on the Columbia River. The Soviet had put out feelers.

John McNaughton, California newspaper owner and assistant defense secretary for international security affairs, will succeed Deputy Secretary Cyrus Vance when he quits because of poor health. . . . A conference of foreign ministers of the Western hemisphere will soon be held to consider measures to implement the economic and diplomatic boycott of Communist-ruled Cuba. There is strong likelihood that recourse to armed force will be approved to counter Castro's persistent subversive operations. . .

Despite the reluctance of several members of the Senate Ethics Committee, it will probe charges that Sen. Edward Long, D-Mo., received $48,000 in "legal fees" from an attorney representing convicted Teamster boss Jimmy Hoffa, a possible conflict of interest.

President Johnson will issue an executive order abolishing draft exemptions for graduate students. This edict will not apply to 1967 graduates, on the ground they have made preparations and commitments to continue studying. But the new rule will apply to next year's graduates.

Gov. George Romney will address a Republican fund-raising dinner in Lincoln, Neb., June 23, while Gov. Ronald Reagan will star at the Young Republicans convention in Omaha. . .

Credibility Gap Exists On Holding Project 17 Report

Mill Valley City Council's clumsy attempt Monday night to keep secret a report on costs of a school and recreation facility at Project 17 was an attempt by a minority of city officials to undermine the $3.5-million school bond measure to be voted upon Tuesday.

This, at least, is how supporters of the measure interpret the council's action. Even if the report had been released without an attempt to keep it secret, they argue, the timing of its publication was designed to raise doubts about the measure only days before the vote.

PASSAGE OF the bond measure is a fragile business at best, its supporters say, "without this sort of monkey business."

A majority of the city councilmen clearly hope for joint development with the school district of the Project 17 area. A minority of the councilmen, and some of their city hall staff, however, oppose joint development at present.

The minority opposes it partly because they see other needs for city money, and partly because they object to the promise by school district trustees to improve all existing neighborhood schools.

Their opposition does not, however, alter the hard fact that the district desperately needs the bond money to improve school facilities. The maneuvering of a few city officials, however, could once again rob the children of a chance for better schools.

THE REPORT, by City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer, that the joint facility may cost $4.4 million, charge supporters of the bond measure, is only his own estimate of the most expensive way to develop the facility. His estimates were based on a pereliminary plan for the area, a plan which included every amenity considered by school and city officials. Obviously, they note, costs can be cut if a more modest plan is adopted.

In any event, the dismal affair Monday pointed up the inadvisability of "secret" reports, since the press managed to get copies before the end of the evening.

The council's demure claim that it was only trying to hide the report until it was reviewed by school officials gave the council another big-time status symbol — a credibility gap.

THREE MAGNIFICENT slot car racing tracks appear doomed next week if someone does not come forward and show interest in them.

The tracks are in the building next to the Independent-Journal's Mill Valley office, and the contractor remodeling the other part of the building as a post office annex says the tracks will be scrapped next week unless someone wants them. The contractor is Zoellner Construction Co. of Ross.

Carpenters, expert in building tracks, spent weeks working the high curves and tricky straightaways back in the days when the fad was at its peak.

Some youth organization, perhaps, could have a terrific time with the tracks. But it also would have to be prepared to dismantle and move them And it will need a lot of space to accommodate the tracks.

It would be sad to see so much work end up on the scrap heap.

EVERYONE WHO spent the past year feeling guilty about watching KQED without contributing a "fair share membership" can salve his conscience this weekend by participating in the educational television channel's annual fund-raising auction.

It is surprising how few of the station's fans help foot the bill, even though most of them are too old to cheat by peeking under the tent.

Here Are Some Ideas To Pep Up Anti-Cigarette Commercials

WASHINGTON — The decision of the Federal Communications Commission to demand that any television or radio station advertising cigarette smoking make time available to antismoking forces has thrown the cigarette companies and the entire advertising world into a swivet. According to the FCC ruling, cigarette smoking is a controversial issue and therefore both sides must get equal time in making their cases.

It's not going to be very easy for the anticigarette forces to make their commercials as interesting as those of the cigarette companies, but they better begin soon.

THE FIRST commercial would show a cowboy riding through the hills and dales, with music in the background. Suddenly he comes to a valley and looks down. Strewn all over the valley are skeletons, each clutching a pack of cigarettes. The next thing heard over the screen is a voice saying, "This is Marlsmoker country. You get a lot to like with a Marlsmoker."

Another commercial could show a beautiful girl and a beautiful man sitting by a river bank. He takes out a cigarette and offers it to her. She says, "Did we come here to smoke or to kiss?" He throws the pack into the river and it floats downstream, therby indicating that cigarette smoking and love don't go together.

THE THIRD commercial would show deep sea fishing on a beautiful yacht. After one man brings in a giant marlin, he turns to the other and says, "I sure could use a cigarette now."

The other man says, "Here, have a piece of gum instead."

The first puts the gum in his mouth. "Say, this sure tastes different from a cigarette."

"That," says the other man, "is because it's got natural mildness."

"Isn't that funny — I thought gum and cigarettes tasted exactly alike."

"That's because you've never chewed a cigarette."

A FOURTH commercial could pan in one fellow beating up another. A third man comes on the scene and asks why the man is beating the other fellow up.

"Because he said he'd rather fight than switch."

The man on the bottom cries, "Don't hit me again. I'll switch. I never was much of a fighter."

The man on top turns toward the camera and says, "Anyone else I catch smoking gets a poke in the eye."

THE FINAL commercial would show a doorman helping a well-dressed man and woman out of a chauffeur - driven Rolls Royce in front of a fancy hotel. He says to the couple, "Show me a cigarette that's better than this and I'll eat by hat."

The camera comes in close on the wealthy man who looks exactly like Conrad Hilton. He says, "You know you're not allowed to smoke on the job. You're fired. And if you get your teeth anywhere near that hat, I'll have you arrested for destroying hotel property."

THE DOORMAN throws his pack of cigarettes in the gutter and says in disgust: "That is the third job I've lost this month."

Suggested Highway 17 Route Would Disturb Fewest Homes

Fusselman

Last Friday the space requirements prevented me from showing what a natural the location I am recommending for Route 17 really is. To consider it must be something comparable to the feelings of a gem cutter when he contemplates the many pleasing facets possible in the stone before him.

First: This routing would provide the most direct, uncomplicated alignment for drivers from the East Bay on their way to West Marin. Then there would be the pleasure of driving a most delightful scenic route all the way from 1-1. And for the home owners, served by the Lucas Valley Road, there would be the comfort of having their road remain as it is.

FURTHERMORE the devastation of razing the homes and business in San Rafael, San Anselmo and Fairfax would be avoided. Nor would complications be created for the commuters of upper Ross Valley. And most certainly, the acquisition costs of the route I am suggesting would appear to be far less than the tremendous severance costs and land values within the three cities, for the required rights of ways through the central corridor.

Upon turning west from 101 just south of Lucas Valley, the route would run somewhat parallel to the valley road. An easy grade would be cut to bring one gradually to the high point north of Sleepy Hollow that I stood on a few years ago. Here an overlook could be established for a gorgeous view of magnificent hills that border valleys in all directions.

WE ARE ALL accustomed to casually glance at our hills from the valley floor. So, it is a delightful shock to stand on that high point just a crow's flight from where we live.

In that general vicinity there should be a fork in the route — one branch to work on over to the White Hill-San Geronimo Valley area. The other would run northward to somewhere close to the south shore of Nicasio Lake, as it would be impossible to widen the Petaluma-Point Reyes road where it skirts the north shore. This would entail filling up a sizeable section of the lake.

AFTER THE ROAD passes the lake 's dam, there is a high cliff of bubbly, shiny black rock. Just south of that cliff is a wide expanse of softly rolling hills — ideal for such a right of way. Then it's just a short stretch to Tomales Bay. This all would be a wonderful layout, hard to beat.

Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, just north of Oak Manor could have a right hand fork that would follow the old right of way on up to Route 17 and thus provide a convenient way for those bound north on 101 or to North Gate.

INCIDENTALLY, Kettenhofen's idea of running a road from Terra Linda down through Sleepy Hollow would be dynamite. Butterfield Road is far too narrow and too crowded as it is.

Patient Openings For Mendocino

Two months ago Marin County officials were told by the State Department of Mental Hygiene that no more Marin alcoholic patients would be accepted at the special alcoholic treatment center in Mendocino State Hospital.

Marin supervisors, after getting this stand confirmed, launched strong protest Tuesday, with telegrams and letters to state agencies.

Yesterday it appeared that it was all a mistake.

E. F. Galioni, deputy director of the department, sent a telegram to Marin supervisors saying the agreement to take Marin patients at Mendocino was still in effect and Marin "inadvertently was misinformed."

Today is Friday, June 9, the 160th day of 1967 with 205 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning star is Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury, Venus, Mars and Jupiter.

Born on this day in 1893 was American song writer Cole Porter.

On this day in history:

In 1942, selective service officials issued a new order placing men with children last on conscription lists.

In 1943, Congress passed an act providing for "pay-as-you-go" income tax deductions, authorizing employers to withhold payments from weekly checks.

In 1959, the first ballistic missile submarine, the nuclear-powered "George Washington," was launched at Groton, Conn.

In 1966, 16 persons were killed and 450 injured as twisters swept through Kansas.

A thought for the day . . . French scholar Jean de la Bruyere said: "To laugh at men of sense is the privilege of fools."

HOW TO PLAY
WINNING BRIDGE
By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Declarer Can Use Defensive Plays To Assure A Victory

For 30 years I have written learned columns to point out that a defender can use declarer's plays, such as the hold-up or the duck.

Today, to show I have no malice, I point out that declarer can use a defender's plays.

FORCING RUFF

West opens the king of hearts and continues with the queen, forcing South to ruff. South returns the queen of diamonds to West's ace. Back comes the ace of hearts, and South ruffs again.

If South draws three rounds of trumps, West will defeat the contract with his last trump and his last heart.

South should read the trump distribution from the takeout double of two clubs and the penalty double of four spades.

West has defended ably by forcing South to ruff. Now South must retaliate by forcing West to ruff. Force and Counterforce might be the title of this little epic.

LEADS DIAMOND

Without drawing a single round of trumps, South leads the jack of diamonds. West ruffs, but cannot find a setting trick.

If West returns a trump, South takes his own top trumps, wins a finesse with dummy's queen of clubs and draws West's last trump. Then dummy is good.

DUMMY KEY

If West, instead, leads his fourth heart, South ruffs and leads out the ace of trumps. He wins a finesse with dummy's queen of clubs, draws trumps with the queen and jack and then claims the rest with dummy's winners.

Punctuality Is Survival Habit

MEDICINE LODGE, Kan. (AP) — Mrs. Wendall Warren was never late for work, and her punctuality saved her life.

When she failed to show up for work one morning at the First National Bank the bank president, C. B. Fullerton, called police.

Undersheriff Herman Schneider broke into the Warren home and found Mr. and Mrs. Warren unconscious from a defective gas furnace. They were rushed to a hospital and recovered.

AEROSPACE PRIMER

World War Two Plane Teaches Students About Aviation Age

Story and Photo
By ELLEN BRY

Students at Novato High School have a chance to learn about dihedral, magnetos, ailerons and navigation in an aeronautics course in which they combine book work and work on an airplane.

A 24-year-old Aeronca light plane, used by the Army Air Corps in World War II, is the guinea pig for students who have torn it down to its skeleton and taken apart the engine.

They learn the intricacies of control cables, have welded repairs to the frame, seen how its spruce wing spars support the fabric covering. The plane has been torn down and rebuilt for two years, ever since instructor John McBeath brought it to the class.

McBeath hopes to have students complete reconstruction some time next winter, get metal wings to replace the too-old, deteriorated wood and fabric ones, cover the plane with new fabric and "horse-trade" it for a damaged metal-covered plane on which stsudents again can operate. And he hopes to acquire an old jet engine from government surplus stocks for students to take apart.

The aeronautics course is only moderately popular at the high school, McBeath said, since most students with a mechanical bent prefer to work on cars.

McBeath also teaches the book-learning side of flying and aircraft maintenance, from aerodynamics theory to navigation and the history of flight, with words emphasized by student class trips to Hamilton Air Force Base, and the Marin County Airport and San Francisco Airport where students see the possibilities of careers in commercial aviation.

McBeath served from 1939 to 1960 in the Air Force, retiring as a captain. He is a licensed aircraft mechanic—and also teaches anthropology.

McBeath and his students look forward to the day when their ground-bound plane will have its engine ticking over and take to the air—only to be turned in on a newer model.

SCHOLARSHIP — Eugene M. Haley has been awarded the $300 Jessie Craig Lovell memorial scholarship for 1967 by the Inverness Garden Club. Haley, of Point Reyes Station, will be graduated from Tomales High School Thursday and will attend College of Marin. He plans to major in engineering.

Hospital Emergency Fee Probe Demanded

By JOHN F. KEARNEY

Thinking of having an accident? If you're budget-minded, it is cheaper to get patched up afterward in hospitals south of the Golden Gate than in Marin County or counties north of the bay.

Steen Schellenberg of San Rafael has already found this out to his cost. In a letter to the Marin Medical Society, he complained he was charged $13.50 for the use of a hospital emergency room in Marin when his son suffered "a minor and uncomplicated scalp cut requiring three stitches."

10-MINUTE JOB

Schellenberg said his son's treatment lasted no more than 10 minutes and required the use of one suture pack and one tetanus shot.

Schellenberg did not mention the hospital by name but the costs quoted indicated it was Marin General Hospital.

He was billed no more — and in some cases considerably less — than he would have been at hospitals in Sonoma and Napa counties.

Only in San Francisco would he have fared better. He could have used the facilities of any of the several city-owned, tax-supported San Francisco emergency hospitals at no charge. If his son had been taken to privately owned Franklin Hospital, the charge would have been a little over $5.

HIGHER NORTH

Apparently, the farther you go into the country, the higher is the cost of getting treatment for that cut scalp.

At Petaluma General Hospital, cost would be between $10 and $15, while Queen of the Valley Hospital in Napa County quoted $15.50.

A quick check of other hospitals showed Santa Rosa Memorial Hospital as charging the most for use of its emergency room. Schellenberg would have simmered over an emergency room bill for $18 if his son had been taken there.

NOVATO RATE

Novato General Hospital — with the only other emergency room in Marin — quoted a flat rate of $7.50 the first half hour for its use.

Wrote Schellenberg: "I believe the time has come for the public to make it known that the outrageous pricing practices of medical and hospital facilities is alienating a good deal of patients.

"In fact, so much so that legislative regulation of fees may be the only remedy available to the public."

He asked the medical society to investigate the pricing practices that led to the charges. A copy of the letter was sent to State Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael.

Schellenberg, head of Schellenberg and Co. of San Rafael, a firm dealing in business and family economics, also complained about the $24 charged by a doctor for treatment of his son. He said the doctor's fee appeared "out of order."

Crematorium For Caribbean

KINGSTON (AP) — The first crematorium in the Caribbean area is being built here.

The crematorium is being built for Sam Isaacs and Son Limited of Kingston, undertakers. It will be equipped with two single Lawnswood Negas cremators supplied by a major British engineering company in Manchester, Northern England, which will cost 8,500 pounds.

The cremators will be almost similar to the most modern installations in Britain.

Indian Suicides Prefer Drowning

NEW DELHI (AP) — Drowning is the favorite form of suicide in India, according to a report by the Central Bureau of Investigation.

A survey by the agency of 29,724 suicides reported in 1964 showed that 8,843 persons died by jumping into wells, ponds or rivers, while 6,754 hanged themselves and 2,900 took poison. Other methods were not disclosed.

The analysis showed that no motive could be found for about half the suicides. However, 6,344 persons were reported to have committed suicide because of chronic diseases. Quarrels with parents caused 2,554 suicides and domestic arguments accounted for 1,822, with women making up 1,159 of this total.

SOCCER, ANYONE?

Foreign Visitors Learn In Marin

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Soccer player Roy B. Maliwa of Malawi not only plans to work during his summer stay in Marin but he plans to play—soccer.

Maliwa plays left fullback on the Malawi National Soccer Team and is to play for his country in next year's Olympic games in Mexico City. He says he would like to join a soccer team here as well as give lectures on the game.

The 28-year-old African, regional organizer of sports and culture in schools and villages in Malawi, is one of six social workers and youth leaders who are in Marin County under the San Francisco International Program.

FOUR MONTHS

Participants are in the U. S. for four months, studying and working in their respective fields. The State Department pays their transportation here and back and tuition costs; the San Francisco International Program finds them work, places to stay with families, and arranges for study courses, most of which are given in San Francisco. They receive no pay. They do receive carfare and lunch money.

Maliwa, staying this week with Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Kunst of 27 Bella Vista Avenue, San Anselmo, will remain in Marin until mid-July and will work and observe at the American Red Cross chapter office in San Rafael. He will stay with a different family next week but the family name has not been announced.

The other five will leave Marin Monday for work assignments.

Another participant, Chung-wing Kwong, 35, of Hong Kong, is to arrive in Marin Monday and remain until the end of August. He will work at Juvenile Hall.

NEW IDEAS

The participants now in Marin praise the 16-week program, saying they are learning many new iedas to take home. They also appreciate working and studying with the people from other countries.

Maliwa said he worked with his leader, Kumuzu Gwaze Banda, in gaining freedom for his country. Formerly Nyasaland under British rule, Malaki became free three years ago.

The African explained his country's educational program where a student, through testing, can move ahead as fast as he is able "For example, I finished secondary school at 13 and was teaching sports to youngsters ages 6 to 12 when I was 15."

From England is Barbara Wing, 32, who says that except for Mill Valley's signs, the city has many scenes which remind her of her home town, Reigate. She is staying with Mr. and Mrs. John Finn III of 19 Roosevelt Street.

"The biggest thing about the program is the exchange of ideas we're getting — not only with Americans but the 19 other nations," said Miss Wing, a medical social worker and teacher in London.

"One American program touches me," said Mrs. Marietta Viray of the Philippines, "is the youth leadership training." This, she added, is where you try to get one's delinquents work in the community from which they come. Mrs. Viray, 27, staying with Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Schoff of Hillgirt Drive, Ross, works in a slum community. She raises chickens as a hobby.

SOCIAL WORK

Mrs. Bjorg Kolnes, 24, of Oslo Norway, who is staying in Sausalito, said the most important thing to her in the program so far is in meeting the participants from different countries.

A nurse and psychiatric social worker, she said social work programs are different at home because the government is socialized. Disappointed in California's weather, she said, "I thought it would be more sunshiny."

Stavroula Pandazopolou, 27, who goes by Voula for short, is from Athens, Greece. A social worker in a rehabilitation program, Miss Pandazopolou is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Niggeman of 296 Makin Grade, Kentfield.

She left Greece a week after the Army coup. She reports that "everything is running normally" and that the changeover didn't upset the majority of the population.

HAS MEANING

From Zagreb, Yugoslavia, is Mirjana Cacic, pronounced "cha-chitch." Miss Cacic, 30, is a mental hospital social worker She speaks Croatian.

Asked the value of the program so far, she replied, "There are 20 people in my group from 19 different countries. Some are near my country, some are far but we found a unique language —not the language which we speak, but one which has meaning."

Miss Cacic is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Christian Matthew of 275 Vista Grande, Greenbrae.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Tar Ointment Still Being Used As Psoriasis Treatment

VAN DELLEN

Psoriasis therapy has changed during the past decade but many of the old remedies still are used. Tar ointment combined with ultra -violet is one of the oldies. The substance tends to retard the very rapid growth of skin cells. A mixture of tar and hydrocortisone is 90 per cent effective especially when the cream is covered with a plastic wrap.

The action of various creams, ointments and lotions is enhanced when scales are removed prior to application. Scale removal is accomplished by combining a warm bath or shower with vigorous scrubbing. A soap containing aluminum oxide and hexaclorophene, assists in removal of scales. Green soap (not tincture of green soap) also is helpful.

OINTMENTS CONTAINING tar or salicylic acid are best removed from the skin with olive oil. A good scalp preparation includes 11 per cent phenol in liquid petrolatum and sodium chloride solution. It is massaged into the scalp at night and washed out the next morning.

Occlusive dressings with thin pliable plastic film have enhanced the effectiveness of the cortisone-like products when applied over the patches. These wraps allow the steroids to remain in contact with the psoriatic plaques for long periods of time. Gloves or food bags of plastic are useful when the hands and feet are involved. They are affixed at bedtime and removed in the morning. Considerable comfort may result from these dressings.

GRATIFYING RESULTS have been obtained when steroids are combined with flexible collodion. The latter is a sticky, thick liquid that adheres to the skin. Methotrexate, an anticancer remedy, is valuable in extensive psoriasis. It is taken internally but must be used under careful supervision because the drug can be toxic.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

HOW OFTEN TO BATHE?

C. N. writes: I take a bath every other afternoon, but my mother says this is too often for a 15-year-old girl. I do it only because I'm nervous. She wants me to bathe once a week. We would appreciate your advice on this matter.

REPLY

Bathing daily or every other day is not too often for a young, active person. Relaxing in a hot tub is good treatment for nervousness. At 15, exercise followed by a bath will do more for your nervousness.

TIGHT WRIST BAND

R. A. A. writes: The elastic band on my wristwatch is tight enough to sink into the flesh. This usually occurs in hot weather when the skin expands. Could this cause any blood circulation problem? It is not too comfortable.

REPLY

This could restrict the circulation and if this was your collar, I'm sure you would get a larger shirt. A more flexible band may solve your poblem.

SLEEP REQUIREMENT

L. B. wites: Do old people need more sleep than the young and middle aged?

REPLY

The elderly are less active and usually require less sleep. On the other hand, they tire more easily and got to bed earlier. In addition, they catnap frequently during the day.

BURNS AFTERMATH

Mrs. V. O. writes: Could a severe burn in a young child be responsible for the formation of a kidney stone? This youngster was in the hospital for nine months.

REPLY

Yes. During immobilization, calcium leaves the bones and is eliminated via the kidneys. When this mineral crystallizes in the urine, kidney stones may form.

Today's Health Hint — Live as though you will live forever.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

Hearsay Often Not Evidence

Maybel's elderly aunt underwent a serious operation. On the operating table she had heart failure and died. Maybel and her relatives blamed the hospital and sued it together with several doctors.

They based part of their case upon a chance remark by an intern. Maybel had asked him what went wrong. "Did they give her the shot of anesthetics?" The intern replied, "No, the shot was alright, but it was too much . . . but I didn't give it."

The court threw out the case for there was no evidence of fault by the doctor. The jury could not infer from the mere fact of the heart failure that there was negligence. This could happen to an elderly person with no one at fault. Actual proof of wrongdoing was missing.

As to the intern's remark, the court refused to hear it as it was pure hearsay. He was not present at the operation and knew nothing first hand. At times an agent of another can made an admission which is heresay but can still be used in court. But the intern was not an agent of the hospital, and he had no authority to speak for the hospital or any of the doctors. The court would exclude this evidence.

People with actual first hand knowledge of an event can testify about it in court. They are "competent" witnesses. But a person who gets his information by hearsay or surmise cannot make remarks acceptable in court.

An agent to make admissions binding on his principal must have authority to speak. Not every employee of a large concern can speak for his employers. A corporation officer with access to records, a manager who can speak for his employer can make binding statements.

There are several exceptions to the hearsay rule. Business records are compiled from hearsay statements of others, but such records kept in the ordinary course of business are reliable Thus, accounting papers, hospital records, or monthly billings are usually accurate and can be used in court. Of course a person can cross-examine the records keeper to show that they are not accurate.

Many official records are admitted in evidence though they are hearsay — marriage certificates, birth records and the like. But some records like accident reports or fire reports are based on what bystanders say. The reporter's opinions cannot be admitted, for they are hearsay.

Boxing Lessons And Art Of Driving

NEW DELHI (AP) — Drivers contemplating trips through the crowded lane of old Delhi would do well to take boxing lessons first.

Movement of traffic has completely collapsed various times recently during rush hours. And one evening, 20 cars were damaged in a hopeless traffic jam, during which the drivers got out and battled each other.

FILM FARE

'Zhivago' Cast Large And Talented

By LES DARD

This week's Marin area film fare is as varied as it is interesting:

FAIRFAX THEATER

A major cast of immense talent has been assembled to bring Russian poet Boris Pasternak's novel to cinematic life. Included are Omar Shariff as Zhivago, the poet-doctor of the title; Julie Christie as his evanescent love, Lara; and Geraldine Chaplin as his wife, Tonya. Also featured are Rod Steiger, Ralph Richardson, Alec Guiness, Tom Courtenay, Siobhan McKenna and Rita Tushingham.

MOTOR MOVIES, NOVATO THEATER

Now playing at both houses is a western, "The Professionals," with top acting and technical talent, along with plenty of meat on the dialog.

In Mexico in the seething 1880's Ralph Bellamy plays a blustering tycoon whose Mexican wife (Claudia Cardinale) is supposedly abducted by bandido Jack Palance.

Bellamy calls in four pros to get her back. $10,000 apiece hires Burt Lancaster, Woody Strode, Lee Marvin and Robert Ryan, each the best in their field.

The co-feature, "Born Free," is a winner for the whole family.

RAFAEL THEATER

Bob Hope's latest laugh-fest is now playing. It's "Eight On the Lam" and it features Phyllis Diller and Jonathan Winters.

Hope plays a bank clerk who finds himself involved in a big embezzlement, and takes to the highway with his eight children and unpaid housekeeper, Miss Diller.

Winters sniffs his way along Hope's trail as a persistent but bumbling detective.

LARK THEATER

"Blowup," holding over, stars David Hemmings and Vanessa Redgrave, in a film put together by famous Italian director Michelangelo Antnioni.

Hemmings, a fashion photographer in mod London, finds himself involved in a frustrating murder mystery which is never really solved—and never needs to be.

SEQUOIA THEATER

Two favorite bills for youngsters have now moved to Mill Valley. They're "The Shaggy Dog" and "The Absent-Minded Professor," both Walt Disney comedies.

101 DRIVE-IN

The young set might also go for David Niven in "Where the Spies Are." He plays what has to be the world's most reluctant secret agent.

Co-featured is "Hot Rods to Hell." Fast stuff.

NORTHGATE THEATER

New Cigarette Filter Found To Cleanse Smoke

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—A cigarette filter that would cost only one-half cent a pack can remove 92 per cent of a radioactive substance in cigarette smoke that has been linked to lung cancer, according to two scientists.

That was the conclusion today of a five-month research project by chemist Erich Bretthauer under the supervision of Dr. Stuart C. Black at the U.S. Public Health Southwestern Radiological Health Laboratory.

The subject of the study was polonium, a radioactive atom found in tobacco smoke.

Black said that the experiments showed that a resing filter similar to those used in water softeners could remove "92 per cent or more of the polonium" in cigarette smoke.

Give him something to look for a job in.

You've given him an education. And he's made the grade. Now he has to face the world. Is he ready? You can give him one small, dependable thing to help push him along life's road (or freeway): a Volkswagen. A VW is great for following up job leads. It averages 29 mpg. Probably will never need oil between changes. Guaranteed not to heat up... or use anti-freeze. And its tires will go 35,000 miles. Even insurance costs less. A VW is the perfect graduation gift. Its economy features go on and on even after he has a job. So, give the kid a VW. He'll love it, and you'll feel better knowing there's a dependable VW carrying him to his place in the sun.

Marin Women

Jack Valenti Speaker At Convention's Final Session

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — American clubwomen were told that if they want better movies and television its up to them to demand excellence and support it.

"If you demand the best, you must be prepared to support it," Jack Valenti, president of the Motion Picture Association of America told the closing session of the General Federation of Women's Club's 76th annual convention last night.

"Television will improve when you make it improve," television producer Bob Banner told an afternoon session.

A 6 foot 5 priest told the 960 clubwomen that failure of adults to understand television's effect on family relationships is largely responsible for the growing "generation gap." And for the tendency of bright, bored students to drop out of high school.

"Today's teen-agers are the first generation brought up with television," said Father John M. Culkin, director of Fordham University's Center for Communication.

"In 1900," he said, "the family and the church and the school got together and decided what was good for the young generation. But the ball game is no longer in the hands of traditional agencies."

Through television, he explained, "The kids are plugged into what is happening now . . . The past doesn't turn them on."

Valenti predicted at a news conference that "over a period of years there will be a visible uplift in motion pictures" as a result of the efforts of his association and the new Motion Picture Code.

Dance Recital Set For Tomorrow

Mrs. Cyrille Raymond of the Raymond School of Dance will present "Here Comes the Circus," a dance recital featuring 35 students in her class at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Novato Community Methodist Church recreation hall.

The dance routines have been created by Mrs. Raymond.

HUMANE SOCIETY INSTALLS

SAVE KENT ISLAND

Last event for the 1966-67 year for the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley was the "Save Kent Island" benefit luncheon yesterday afternoon at the clubhouse. In foreground, luncheon chairman Mrs. Verne Hockett places one of the flags designating the location of the island in Bolinas Lagoon. Looking on behind the model of the lagoon prepared by Mill Valley Boy Scout Troop 34 are, from left, Mesdames J. Paul Hurd, new president; Thomas E. Welsh, civics and conservation chairman; and Kenyon Spalding, outgoing president who planned the benefit. (Independent-Journal photo)

Friends Of Library Name New Officers

Dr. James C. Mickle of Sausalito has accepted the presidency of the Sausalito Friends of the Library.

A member of the organization one year, he is interested in promoting knowledge of the library and its needs. Major recent activities have been in connection with plans for a new library. The present one is outmoded, he says, and main considerations are what kind of new library is required and where it should be located.

Dr. Mickle, who is a psychiatrist with offices in San Francisco, holds an A.B. degree from Dartmouth College and M.D. degree from Stanford Medical School and is on the clinical faculty of the University of California Medical Center.

He and his wife have lived in Marin ten years. Their three children are Annalisa, 8; Iain 6; and Erin, 2.

DR. JAMES C. MICKLE

In his leisure time he enjoys reading, tennis, hiking and music, especially the piano.

The charm of 18th Century France is yours in this new, unique series.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Report From Vietnam Mail Call Brings Praise Of Good Work

DEAR READERS:

Latest report from Vietnam Mail Call is that my HHU and YAFI readers have sent nearly 25,000 letters to servicemen overseas. Your thoughtfulness and concern make me realize all over again how great the American people are. I can't say it nearly so well as it is said in a letter I'd like to share with you:

DEAR MRS. BOTTEL:

E. Paul Steward, Project Coordinator of Vietnam Mail Call, recently wrote me advising of the good work that you have done through your column in obtaining mail for our servicemen here. We deeply appreciate your effort in helping to boost morale of our forces.

We could not hope to succeed in our mission to bring peace to this war torn land without the wholehearted support of those at home. Letters from home to our servicemen are tangible reminders of this much needed support. Your effort in this regard is commendable.

On behalf of all of the servicemen in this command, I extend heartfelt thanks.

Sincerely,
W. C. WESTMORELAND,
General, United States
Military Assistance
Command, Vietnam

Truly, my readers deserve the praise, not I. But most of all, E. Paul Stewart, who heads Vietnam Mail Call, should get a great big hand. In the two years since he and his associates in the South Columbus Merchants Association founded the project, they have airmailed some 750,000 pieces of mail from all over the world, to our men in Vietnam.

Again, if you want to correspond with a serviceman, and I'm sure you do, send your letter in an unaddressed envelope; enclose it in another envelope addressed to: Vietnam Mail Call, P.O. Box 3104-A, Columbus, Ga., 13903. Send 10 cents to cover cost of mailing, and it will be forwarded overseas. Include your return address on your serviceman's letter, so that he can reply.

. . . And add a little note to Mr. Steward, commending him for his work. Okay? — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I am 30, have been corresponding with this nice young man who is in the Service. We've exchanged pictures and know practically everything about each other, as far as you can go through letters. He will be out in September and he wants me to take my vacation then, and meet him in California, so that we can talk about getting married. I live in New Jersey.

I have a married girlfriend in California and can visit her. My problem is that my parents think it's a shameful thing for a decent woman to meet a strange man 3,000 miles away, practically alone. I tried to explain we'd be chaperoned, but they can't see it. So I'm asking you to arbitrate. — C.M.

DEAR C.:

At 30, you should be making your own decisions, and I think you've made a good one. But remember, letters and pictures sometimes don't tell the whole story. You may not find marriage in California, but it will be a nice adventure anyway. — H.

PERSONAL TO "TIRED OF UPPITY RELATIVES": Why lie? Tell your husband the real reason you're against visiting those kinfolk this summer. "It's not the heat, it's the lack of humility that gets you down." — H.

DEAR HELEN:

A 15-year-old neighbor girl is paralyzed from the neck down — she now has a little movement of her arms — as a result of a swimming accident a year ago. At first she had quite a bit of company, but it has dwindled off, as has her mail. She's muchly in need of cheering cards and letters and, to put it in her words, she thinks it would be "neat" hearing from kids and grown-ups all over the country. Won't you ask your readers to write to: Debbie Asman, Stanford Children's Convalescent Hospital, Palo Alto, 94305. Thank you. — D.H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

AROUND THE PUNCH BOWL

Family Service volunteers at Hamilton Air Force Base were hosts to volunteers from Beale, Mather, Travis, McClennan and Castle Air Force Bases and Fort Ord Army Base Wednesday. GERMS UNTRAPPED

Thorough Washing Makes You Dirty

ATLANTA (UPI) —A good, thorough washing makes you dirtier than ever. And maybe everybody ought to go without clothes.

So says Thomas W. Kethley, of Georgia Tech. He has worked for nine years on a way to make hospital operating rooms germ free.

Kethley doesn't think his discoveries are particularly significant but they were necessary before he could make operating areas as sterile as surgeon's instruments.

A healthy human, Kethley says, is infested with bacteria at all times. But they normally are trapped by the skin's oil and largely are inactive.

Taking a bath, however, removes the oil and frees the bacteria to be whisked into the air and infect someone else.

Kethley also discovered germs are rubbed off the skin by clothing only to settle on another person for their dirty work.

Another commonly-held notion Kethley disbelieves is that most bacteria is spread from the mouth. He says it's the skin because it has a much larger area and is more tolerant to the little bugs.

Ketnley and his co-worker, W. B. Cown, have about solved their operating room germ problems with a series of air filters which remove bacteria.

The old air is pumped out and most germs go with it. Then sterile air is pumped in. The pumps Kethley uses provide 20 to 30 complete changes of air in an hour.

Kethley also believes he has defeated the problem of clothes worn by the surgeon and his staff rubbing off bacteria in the vicinity of the patient. He recommends loose-fitting one-piece garments bound tightly at throat.

But he says the best solution is simple, however impractical. He asked: "Why not naked surgeons?"

New St. Vincent's Auxiliary Names Founder As President

The new president of the recently formed Women's Auxiliary, St. Vincent's School for Boys is Mrs. J. Warnock Walsh Jr., who organized and founded the group.

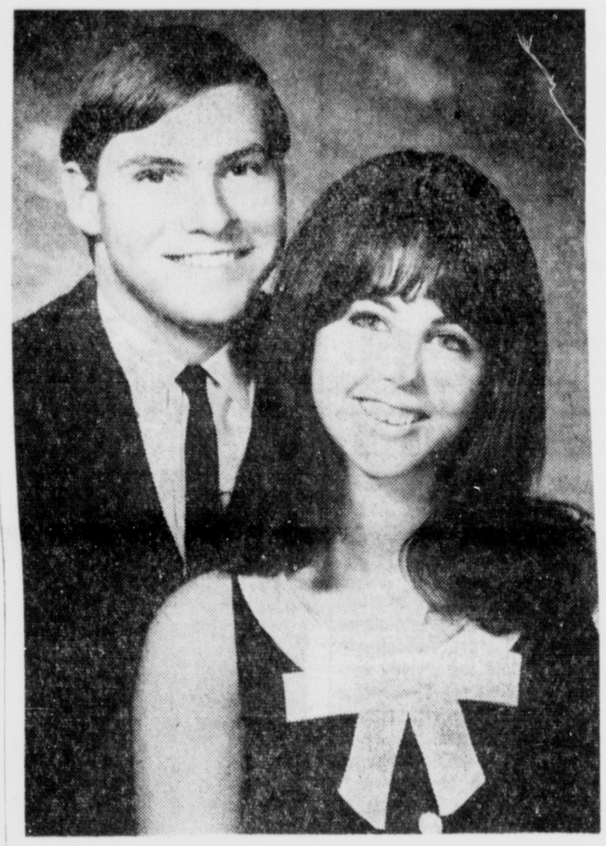
During her 10 year residency in Marin County, she has been active in Catholic charities. In addition, she is the past president of the Volunteer League, Kaiser Foundation Hospital, and has been active with Junior Social Service, United Community Fund, Foresters, and is a director of the Presidio Society.

A native of Winnipeg, Canada, Mrs. Walsh attended St. Mary's Academy and College in that city. She has one daughter, Lesley, who is a junior at the Convent of the Sacred Heart in San Francisco. St. Vincent's is the oldest school of its kind in the West. It was founded in January of 1855. Students come from the Bay Area, Sacramento and Stockton, and during the past year there were 315 boys at the school. Boys are accepted for eight grades of grammar school and four grades of high school.

Other elected officers are Mesdames Louis Castellani, vice president; J. Conrad Abbett, treasurer; Richard E. Lane, recording secretary, and Herbert Brandt, corresponding secretary.

Selected to serve as chairmen and members of the board of directors are: Mesdames David Dooley, motor corps; Thomas Guerin, membership; Frank Ford, hospital vistation; Kenneth Larkins, sewing, and Charles E. Luchessa, school services.

Mrs. David Geoffrion will handle publicity, and Mrs. John W. Davis in charge of donations.



RECENTLY ENGAGED are Julie Evelyn Brown and Glenn David Kabanuck, both of San Rafael.

(Heritage photo)

Julie Brown's Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Norman W. Brown of San Rafael have announced the engagement of their daughter, Julie Evelyn, to Glenn David Kabanuck, also of San Rafael.

Julie is the sister of Mrs. Victor Tulipani and Linda Brown, both of San Rafael, and was graduated from Terra Linda High School. She also attended College of Marin and is employed with Pacific Gas and Electric Co. in San Francisco.

The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas J. Kabanuck and the brother of Gary and Cheryl Kabanuck, all of San Rafael. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Giambastiani of San Rafael are his grandparents.

Glenn attended Terra Linda High School, University of Santa Clara and College of Marin. He is employed with Sherman Clay and Co.

MRS. J. WARNOCK WALSH JR.

Debbie Pfeffer To Be Bride Of Gregory Baker

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Pfeffer of San Rafael have announced the engagement of their daughter Deborah to Gregory Baker of Novato. The couple plan a wedding on July 29.

Debbie is the sister of Janet Pfeffer of San Rafael and she is the granddaughter of Mrs. John Pfeffer of San Rafael and of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peterson of Petaluma.

She is a San Rafael High School graduate and is attending the College of Marin. She is also employed at the Emporium at Northgate.

Gregory is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn M. Baker of Novato and the brother of Michael D. Baker, serving with the Air Force, and Steven Baker of Novato. A Novato High School graduate, he is employed with Midtown Market in Novato.

to return about the middle of August.

CYNTHIA HURLEY, daughter of the John J. Hurleys of Mill Valley, is back in Finland, where she spent over a year as an exchange student under the International Christian Youth exchange program.

This time she went as a member of the Finnish-America Western Singers who flew on June 2 to Stockholm. Going from there to Turko, Finland, they will enter competitions with singing groups all over Finland.

Cynthia will leave the group before it returns to the Bay Area on July 23 since she plans to pay a surprise visit to her Finnish family, the Anton Jaaskelainens, on their farm at Pielavesi Keski-Savia.

She says this will be in time for her to help with the haying and participate in the midsummer festival on June 14 — the day on which the sun doesn't set, and the people dance all night.

MR. AND MRS. HOWARD SIEVERS will leave Sausalito the middle of this month for 18 months in South Africa. They will be living in Johannesburg, where they formerly lived for two years. This is in connection with Mr. Sievers' work as an electrical engineer with the Bechtel Corporation of San Francisco. They are looking forward to going, they say, because they enjoyed their two years there so much.

Presbyterian Group To Gather Tuesday

Dr. John Hadsell, head of Westminster House on the University of California campus at Berkeley, will speak on "The University Outpost, Can Self-Identity and the University Succeed Together?" at a luncheon on Tuesday.

Mrs. Gerald Frellson is chairman for the luncheon to be given by the United Presbyterian Women of Westminster Presbyterian Church at noon at the church on Tiburon Blvd. Mrs. William Gwynne will conduct the meeting with luncheon served by Priscilla Circle.

Garden Workshop Sets Celebration

Marin garden lovers and green thumbers will attend the third birthday celebration of "Gordon on the Grow" workshop at the San Rafael Improvement Club Tuesday at 1:30 p.m.

Gordon Baker Lloyd's program is titled "Summer Fling." Refreshments will include an anniversary cake.

The only entrance fee requested is a plant for the gift exchange table. Chairman of the event is Mrs. Claude Bessellieu.

Music Sorority Installs Officers

Installed Sunday as officers at the Terra Linda home of Mrs. Harris Kluksdahl were several Marin members of the San Francisco Alumnae Chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon, international professional music sorority.

The new Marin officers are Mesdames Peter Palmer of San Rafael, president; Kluksdahl, vice president; Kenneth Norbert of Tiburon, corresponding secretary, and Forest M. Sorensen of Greenbrae, treasurer.

Mrs. Sibyl Schneller of Mill Valley was installing officer.

Cat Comfort

Make a bunk for your cat. Take an old wooden fruit box line with scraps of heavy plastic or Formica. Then swabbing it down with hot suds will be a snap.

TV REVIEW

Carson's Stock Is Going Up

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Whatever the exact amount of Johnny Carson's recent publicized raise, current developments indicate he has more than demonstrated his value in terms of cold cash.

During the time he was absent from NBC-TV's "Tonight" show—while his lawyers were dealing for his new contract—there was much speculation over the sudden outbreak of late-night video competition he had to face.

To begin with, there would be ABC-TV's Joey Bishop series from Hollywood. And then there would be the new united network's nightly two-hour series from Las Vegas. And on top of all that, CBS-TV had also started the machinery to come up with a late-night show of its own, and there was added speculation that the host might be Jackie Gleason or perhaps Jack Paar.

Well, here we are not too much later, and Carson is back, and if there were ever any doubters about his near-total dominance of the late-night entertainment field on television, they must surely have been made believers by now.

The Bishop series has indeed arrived on ABC-TV, but in terms of the ratings, it simply isn't even close to Carson and "Tonight."

One of the key problems here is that ABC-TV does not have the number of affiliate stations —in short, the lineup—to match NBC-TV, and therefore cannot really hope to compete in the size of the total audience; in short, in the statistical rivalry. It is this competition that determines the ratings and the resultant advertising income.

In sum, Carson has late-night television in his hip pocket, and that is why he got a raise.

College Has Deadline For Summer Session

Final registration for College of Marin summer session credit classes will be Monday and Tuesday, 9 a.m. to noon and 5:30 to 8:30 p.m., in room 5 of Harlan Hall.

In Fair Condition

James B. Menlove, 19, of 22 Skyline Road, San Anselmo, remained in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with multiple face cuts suffered yesterday when the car he was driving struck the back of a fire truck in San Anselmo.

LESSONS TO SAVE A LIFE

Mayor Tells Ross Tax Hike Urgent

A stern warning to Ross residents of what he said will happen if they fail to pass a 50-cent increase in the statutory general government tax rate was given last night by Mayor Frederick S. Allen.

Voters will go to the polls June 20 to vote on increasing the rate from $1 to $1.50 per $100 assessed valuation beginning next fiscal year.

"If this request is turned down, it will be too horrible to think about," he said.

The council would have to cut back severely on administration and would consider giving up the town's police or fire departments, or both, he claimed, leaving such protection to the county.

"We have had a bad year financially," said Mayor Allen. "We havent's the final figures yet but it doesn't look good.

"We can exist no more on $1—a rate established in 1935. No one can live in 1968 with the same rate that you could in 1935."

Mayor Allen said the town may not necessarily use the increase of 50 cents right away, but it would give the council "considerable more leaway" than it had in planning at the present time.

Consideration of a possible route for the Corte Madera Flood Control Project through Ross gave an indication this one-time bone of contention may be in for a smoother passage in future.

Phillip B. Lygren, city engineer, explained the three proposed routes—red, green and blue—and asked the council for its thinking.

Councilmen and some local residents found themselves in favor of the red route although, on paper, it appears to cost more.

Beginning near the southernmost boundary of Ross at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, the red route would travel most of its line to the post office along the old railroad right of way.

Preliminary cost of this route was $769,000, due mainly to more construction needed, acquiring buildings at the rear of property on Poplar Avenue, and relocation of two water mains.

Despite the cost, Councilman Roy Farrington Jones said the red route "did the least amount of violence" and would involve the least amount of severance pay.

He considered the two other routes, although appearing cheaper at this stage, could cost more if severance costs proved higher than expected.

Councilmen instructed Town Atty. Rovert W. Elliott to draw up an ordinance controlling the use of the Natalie Coffin Greene Park.

Members were at a loss on how to keep "out-of-town unruly groups" out of the park but insured, at least, the new ordinance would stipulate no camping, no house trailers, no motorcycles, no scooters, and no buses.

The Ross Town Council also:

ROAD WORK — Decided it didn't have enough money at present to pay the cost of an overlay pavement on Lagunitas Road.

LEGISLATION — Opposed a bill making mandatory a 56-hour week for firemen, another bill requiring collective bargaining for public employees, and a third bill requiring city councils to put street sign painting work out to bids.

LAND DIVISION — Granted Russell G. Smith of 81 Fernhill Avenue permission to divide 4.76 acres into three lots.

ROSS COUNCIL KEEPING UP WITH JONESES

Thomas W. Jones last night was appointed to Ross Town Council to serve out the unexpired term of Councilman William P. McAndrew, who resigned last month.

Jones is president of Pacific Lithograph Co. in San Francisco and lives on Hill Road, Ross.

His appointment to the council will mean two members are named Jones. He and Roy Farrington Jones are not related, although close friends.

Farrington Jones nominated Thomas Jones for the vacant seat last night and said he had known him for 35 years. "We went to school together and we spent many a happy hour hunting since then. He is a thoroughly nice fellow," he said.

$1.8 Million Budget Passes In Mill Valley

Mill Valley City Council last night gave tentative approval to a $1.8 million budget for fiscal 1968, reported City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer.

Final approval of the budget, up $100,000 from the current fiscal year's budget, is slated June 19.

Balmer said he did not expect any increase in the current $2.315 property tax rate will be neccessary. The 1968 rate will be set in August.

The council made the following additions, totaling $13,000 to the proposed budget: Upped Balmer's annual salary by $1,250 to $18,500; added $4,000 to provide city employees with disability insurance; hiked the contribution to the chamber of commerce from the current $2,500 to $3,250; hiked by $50 a month the $550 retainer paid City Atty. Leland H. Jordan; agreed to repair the Dipsea Trail between Marion and Hazel avenues at a cost of $6,700; allocated $5,000 for 400 feet of decked sidewalk on Buena Vista Avenue; approved $5,000 to plan major arterials on the North Ridge, $1,000 to begin painting the inside of City Hall.

Tomales Teachers Chided But Raised

Tomales High School District trustees last night unanimously granted teachers a 5.6 per cent boost in salary scale, but only atfer some caustic remarks about the burden on taxpayers and the headaches of tenure.

Business teacher Garland Anderson, chairman of the teachers' salary committee, presented charts showing the district salaries lagging behind others in Marin and Sonoma counties, pointed out there had been no adjustment in the scale in two years, and said the requested increase would still leave the district lagging.

Trustee Jean E. Adams told Anderson, "I would approve giving $1,000 more a year at each step (of the scale) if teachers would allow us a way to get rid of poor teachers."

Mrs. Adams said salary committees would have an easier time negotiating with school boards if teachers would help the boards with this problem. She complained that "instant tenure" made it almost impossible to fire a teacher found unsatisfactory after hiring.

Anderson said the law provided methods of firing, but Mrs. Adams replied these are costly, time-consuming, complicated, and unlikely to succeed.

Anderson attributed this to the competition between the California Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO) and the California Teachers Association in winning benefits for teachers.

Trustee Roy A. Parks said he would vote for the increase but reluctantly. He cited hard times in agricultural West Marin and Sonoma County.

Dairymen, Parks said, were selling milk "without profit or at less than cost." Wool prices had dropped about 25 cents from last year's 65 cents and lamb is going at 24 cents a pound compared to 26 cents last year, he said.

"These are the people we're asking to dig up extra money," he said.

He coupled his reluctant vote for the increase with the assertion, "I certainly expect performance for this salary."

The board excluded from the scale increase the "factors" which grant the superintendent, principal, vice principal, and coaching staff additional pay. These will be discussed later.

The 5.6 per cent increase hikes the salary scale from $6,000-to-$10,900 to $6,336-to-$11,519. Supt. Anthony Matulich estimated it would add about $7,500 to the present $137,040 in teachers' salaries. It also increases the total tentative budget for next year to nearly $333,000, from this year's $292,677.

Tomales High School District Board Also:

HIGH TIMES — Approved distribution of High Times, a county-wide student publication, on the Tomales campus next school year.

BUS AGREEMENT — Deferred discussion of an agreement with Tomales Bay Elementary School District for busing elementary students in the high school uses.

NEW BUS — Accepted specifications prepared by Superintendent Matulich for a new bus.

TAX LOAN — Authorized Matulich to apply to the board of supervisors for the maximum tax anticipation loan to provide interim funds until receipt of tax revenues in December.

STAFF SURVEY — Set a special meeting for 10 a.m. June 16 at the school to receive a report of a "staff satisfaction" survey by the California Teachers Association.

RESIGNATION — Accepted with commendation for his services the resignation of agricultural teacher Jack Lawrence.

He Buys A Frame, Finds Valuable Oil

San Rafael publicist J. Warnock Walsh Jr. knows a good work of art when he sees it and this fact is somewhat embarrassing to his wife.

Walsh bought an oil painting of a nude and cherub in repose at a San Francisco auction. He said the frame looked custom-made and he felt the painting was worth the $100.

Warnock's wife, however, termed it "rubbish and not worth $5." The oil was put in the basement.

Walsh, who lives at 272 Devon Drive, took the painting to E. A. J. Casassa of San Anselmo, a senior member of the American Society of Appraisers. Casassa said the painting was by the late Eduardo Tojetti of San Francisco and should be worth $3,500. Tojetti's father painted works which hang in the Vatican.

The nude and cherub, 43 by 49 inches, now takes up "most of the living room," Mrs. Walsh said today. A painting of a leaping trout which was on the wall had to come down. "It's all rather embarrassing for me," said Mrs. Walsh.

$7,000 Extra In Library Funds Asked

Sausalito City Council's finance committee last night recommended a $40,029 library budget for fiscal 1968, reported City Mgr. George M. Patterson.

Up from the current fiscal year's $33,578, the proposed budget provides for increased salaries, purchase of more new books, and a $1,100 increase in membership fee for the North Bay Cooperative Library system.

The committee, Councilmen Jan Paul Dyk and Alexander R. Imlay, also endorsed Patterson's recommendation that library empoyees be included in the Civil Service system.

The committee recommended a $19,244 budget for parks, down from the current $21,550. Included is $3,700 to complete cloud view park. The committee temporarily deferred a recreation commission request that the city begin to accumulate funds for land acquisitions on the waterfront.

A $6,159 budget for recreation, down from the current $6,624, also was recommended.

The committee will review the public works budget today at 7:30 p.m. in city hall.

Tram Could Get A Nod To Continue

The Tiburon Tram had so much business it turned away riders yesterday, and Tiburon City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose today announced plans for two meetings next week to discuss continuing the service permanently.

Rose said about 10 commuters had to be turned away from the tram's home run at 6:10 p.m. yesterday. The tram's capacity is 50.

No dates were set for the meetings. Rose said the first would be of representatives of the city, Strawberry Shopping Center, Tiburon Peninsula Harbor Carriers, who operate the Tiburon-San Francisco commute ferry. The second would be a city council hearing to get the views of residents.

Rose said the Strawberry shuttle service will run tomorrow. On Sunday, the tram will operate only in the downtown Tiburon area.

'Happening' Will Clog Beach Route

Travelers to Stinson Beach would be well-advised to avoid Panoramic Highway this weekend and go via Shoreline Highway or San Geronimo Valley. That mammoth two-day "musical love-in" will take over much of Mount Tamalpais.

The benefit for San Francisco's Hunter's Point Community, rained out last weekend, is scheduled for Saturday and Sunday from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the mountain's amphitheater.

Radio Station KFRC, sponsor of the rock-folk-jazz "happening," will run buses throughout the day from the vicinity of Tamalpais High School and Marin County Civic Center to transport the 15,000 ticket holders each day to the mountain top. No one will be admitted who does not arrive at the theater by the chartered buses, KFRC has announced.

The show has been sold out and a two-mile security perimeter around the amphitheater will make crashing the event impossible, according to KFRC.

The State Division of Beaches and Parks has banned all parking on the mountain within two miles of the theater and warned that violators will be cited.

The public has been asked by the California Highway Patrol to cooperate in keeping traffic moving across the narrow mountain roads during the weekend.

Novato Asks North Marin Commission

A joint city-county commission should be charged with North Marin planning, Novato city councilmen agreed last night.

The council directed City Mge. J. Julien Baget to work with the county for establishment of such a commission, and empowered him to negotiate details.

The action came as councilmen reviewed a proposed planning budget of $48,085 and agreed that an assistant city planning director might be eliminated. The budget contains only $4,000 toward the $8,000-plus salary for the assistant. The job has already been advertised but Baget said no qualified applicant has yet appeared.

Councilmen knocked $400 of small items off the planning budget to reduce the total to $47,910.

They eliminated $450 from miscellaneous expenses of the non-departmental budget, reducing it to $116,705. Approved as recommended by the city manager were budgets of the council, $9,250; city manager-clerk, $34,455; finance, $38,595; promotion, $10,740, and elections, $3,000.

Descansco Park Rites Tomorrow

Dedication of the Descanso Way Park in Santa Venetia, set for 10 a.m. tomorrow, will be a vicotry celebration for residents and directors of Gallinas Village Community Services District.

The park, at the bend in Descanso Way, has a tennis court, tot lot, and grassed areas for play and picnics.

An earlier park development plan for district land at Adrian and Rosal ways ran into heavy criticism and was eventually given up. Residents wanted more than the grass and trees proposed in that plan.

After several months, persistent work by a reorganized board of directors and a controversial donation of $10,000 in funds from the county general fund, Descanso Way Park was built. Directors now have a summer program organized with the new park as headquarters.

Tomorrow's dedication will lead off with an invocation by Rev. Aaron Miller of Santa Venetia Presbyterian Church, announcement of the name selected for the park and award of prizes in the name selection contest, a short talk by County Supervisor John F. McInnis, and benediction by Rev. Leonard Calegari of the Church of the Blessed Sacrament.

There will then be music from the Absolute Vacuum, balloon tossing and basketball ptiching, and a sack race. A clown will entertain the children, and there will be free ice cream.

Francisco Peccorini, president of the CSD board, will be master of ceremonies.

Bicycle Trio Learns Lesson

Three San Rafael boys learned yesterday that riding three on a bike is hazardous.

Russell M. Phillips, 10, of 111 Trellis Drive; Jimmy Jinella, 8, 219 Trellis Drive and Anson Solem, 10, of 161 Trellis Drive were thrown to the pavement while riding north on Trellis Drive at about 8:46 a.m.

Russell was treated for sprained and cut fingers and loss of a fingernail at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital; Anson received a slight concussion and was treated by his own doctor, Jimmy fuffered a scraped elbow but was able to attend school.

Insurance Session

The insurance committee of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District will meet at 11:30 a.m. June 29 in the administration building at the toll plaza, Helen Jack, district secretary, reported yesterday.

Surging Giants To Open Series With Braves

ATLANTA (AP) — The San Francisco Giants open a three game series against Atlanta's Braves tonight, pushed by the momentum of 10 victories in their last 14 games—and closing in on the National League leading Cincinnati Reds.

The Giants humbled the Reds 8-5 last night with homers by Tom Haller, Willie McCovey, and Ollie Brown and the help of a two-run throwing error by Reds catcher Johnnie Edwards.

The win moved the second place Giants within three games of the Reds and gave them a 2-1 edge in the series.

Mike McCormick (4-2) will start for the Giants against Atlanta's Ken Johnson (4-4). Knuckleballing Johnson has been consistently tough for Giant hitters. Gametime is 5 o'clock (PDT).

Hot-hitting Jesus Alou may be lost to the Giants for a few games because of a bruised left wrist. He was hit by a Sammy Ellis pitch in the third inning and went to a hospital for X-ray check. No fracture was found, but the arm was swollen.

Alou banged four for five in Wednesday night's 4-3 triumph and singled ahead of Haller's first inning homer last night.

Tony Perez tagged starter Bob Bolin for his 13th homer leading off the second and the Reds went ahead 3-2 in the third. Reliever Ron Herbel yielded another run on a single and a wild pitch in the fifth for a 4-2 Cincinnati lead.

Willie Mays started a three-run sixth inning Giant rally with a double. McCovey followed with his 10th homer over the right field bleachers. Brown smashed a homer into the left field screen.

The Reds tied it up at 5-5 in the seventh on doubles by Tommy Helms and Leo Cardenas.

Bill Henry, nearing his 40th birthday, took over and retired the next three hitters, although Cardenas reached third on Edwards' sacrifice.

McCovey doubled off Gerry Arrigo in the eighth and Jim Ray Hart was walked intentionally. Don Nottebart replaced Arrigo and Brown greeted him with a single to right, scoring McCovey and moving Hart to third.

Hal Lanier grounded to Helms at second and Helms' throw to the plate caught Hart in a rundown. But Edwards' throw back to Perez hit Hart in the shoulder and the ball caromed into left field. Hart bounced up and scored and Brown came all the way around from first.

Henry got credit for his first win, but Frank Linzy pitched the last two innings, stopping the Reds on one hit.

It Will Be Golf Trio's First Meeting Sunday

MEET THE CHAMPS — Dr. Harold Itokazu of Terra Linda is a periodontist. Byron Eggleston of Santa Venetia is a construction worker. And George Scherba of Novato is a warehouse supervisor.

The three have never met, but they have one thing in common: Golf. They will be formally introduced at 9 a.m. Sunday when they and the three gentlemen you met here yesterday tee off in the first Marin County Golf Tournament of Champions at Indian Valley course, Novato.

Dr. Itokazu, a native of Hawaii, will represent San Geronimo National Club; Eggleston carries the Mill Valley Golf Club banner; Scherba will be the host champion at Indian Valley. Along with Sid NuDelman of San Rafael's Peacock Gap, Milt Morley of Marin C. C. and Don Lazzarini of the Meadow Club in Fairfax, they'll duel over 18 holes of scratch medal play to determine the champion of champions.

Dr. Itokazu Could Surprise Favorites

Dr. Itokazu desscribes himself as ". . . a poor champion" with a 10 handicap — highest in the champs' lineup — and suggests tongue-in-cheekily, "Maybe I should carry the other fellows' bags. Anyway, they should give me a trophy just for showing up."

However, a 10 handicap at the fairly new and tough San Geronimo National course can be deceiving. Pro Tom McHugh says, "Dr. Itokazu has shot in the mid-70s on occasion and could surprise some of the favorites Sunday."

And besides, anyone who spend all day peering into cavities should be considered a golf threat.

"Actually," says Dr. Itokazu, "I'm looking forward to playing in this tournament for the experience."

The first and only champion at the young San Geronimo club, the 39-year-old doctor has been playing golf about 10 years. The title he won last fall in medal play was his first major victory.

Dr. and Mrs. Itokazu have four children. They came to Marin about six years ago from Seattle.

Eggleston Won Three M.V. Club Titles

Eggleston has been something of a landmark at Mill Valley where he has won three club titles since joining in the early 1950s. A past club president, he has been a director since 1959. His trophy case also includes a Mill Valley City title and the Marin County Amateur Championship in addition to bundles of other weekend victories.

A fellow golfer says of Eggleston, "He's been in poor health and doesn't look strong enough to carry his clubs. You know, small, slender, mid-50ish and reticent. But he's got a fine golf touch. He seems to spend hours lining up putts, but, by golly, he makes them." Byron is a five handicapper.

Scherba Has Home Course Advantage

The 54-year-old Scherba, who will have the home course advantage, joined Indian Valley in 1963 and has won the club title four consecutive years, beating such fine shotmakers as Bob Brossier, Warren Smith, Bob Capehart and Al Randig in the process. "Break up Scherba" is the battle cry out Novato way.

A golfer "ever since I caddied as a kid," Scherba currently sports a three handicap but adds, "It should be about 15. My hand has been giving me trouble and I haven't been playing well." He injured a tendon while bowling about three years ago, had to quit that sport because of it, and still has trouble in cold weather. "But," he hastily added, "it will be alright Sunday. Things like this seem to get better suddenly for big tournaments."

"Scherba," who retired from the Air Force in 1954 as a Master Sergeant after 21½ years of service won the Silver Star in World War II's Battle of Midway and later campaigned as an infantryman through Africa and Europe.

A resident of Marin since 1947, he managed military golf teams and directed the Hamilton Air Force Base athletic program for five years before his retirement. He is warehouse supervisor at the Hamilton base commissary.

Don't Bet On Our Predictions

Scherba's son, George, 20 an Army sergeant, recently returned from 19 months' service in Vietnam; his daughter Carole, 16, attends Novato High.

Well, there you know a little about Marin's golf champs. For fun, here is how I pick them to finish Sunday (their handicaps in parenthesis): 1—Milt Morley (1); 2—Don Lazzarini (4); 3—George Scherba (3); 4—Sid NuDelman (5); 5—Byron Eggleston (5); 6—Dr. Harold Itokazu (10).

But please don't bet on it.

SHE CAN KEEP ON GOLFING

Sacrifices Rib To Prolong Career

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Ruth Jessen is smiling today but she says "it hurts to laugh" after sacrificing a rib in the hope of prolonging a fine professional golf career.

It appears, she said from a Dallas hospital bed, that the rib was responsible for cutting off the blood circulation to her left arm and leaving her hand numb.

Any right-handed duffer knows the importance of the left arm to a successful golf swing.

"This has been going on for two years," she said. "They found this one rib was larger and flatter than the others and was cutting off circulation."

HER SHARE OF PAIN

Miss Jessen, 30, a member of the Ladies Professional Golf Association tour since 1956 and its eighth leading money winner with nearly $100,000, has endured more than her share of pain in the last four years.

In May 1965 she had surgery for removal of a tumor and came back to post a scoring average of 75.21 and earn $9,982. Two years before that she had an operation on a back disc and almost three months to the day after surgery she won the Cosmopolitan Women's Open at Rockton, Ill.

Miss Jessen said this time she will not be in a big hurry to return to the tour.

"The last two times I went back too soon and I had relapses," she said.

The 5-foot-7 blonde native of Seattle, Wash., said she thought the back disc might have caused her new problems until tests by physicians last weekend revealed the new cause.

She underwent surgery for the rib removal Monday and Baylor Medical Center reported yesterday she was "doing just fine."

Miss Jessen suffered through the first eigt tournaments this year and still shot a respectable 74.48 average for 23 rounds. She did not place first or second in a tournament, however.

She said the surgeons were able to remove the rib without cutting into the muscle. She felt this would speed her recovery and hasten her return to the tour.

"I hapefully would like to play in the National Open," she said, "but this is just hopeful." The women's open is the last of this month.

Miss Jessen's popularity among her fellow pros was shown by her selection ag LPGA vice president in 1963 and president last year.

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Floyd Patterson, first man ever to regain the heavyweight title and loser of it twice, takes on young Jerry Quarry, a Los Angeles favorite, tonight in a scheduled 10-rounder outdoors at the Los Angeles Coliseum.

This is only Patterson's fourth fight since Cassius Clay hammered him out in 12 at Las Vegas, Nov. 22, 1965. Since then he's kayoed people like Henry Cooper, the notorious British exponent of the horizontal, and a pair of canvasbacks named Willie Johnson and Bill McMurray.

Who Needs Hank Aaron?

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

So who needs Hank Aaron anyway?

Sure, he's leading the National League with 15 home runs and sure he's driven in 35 runs and scored 40 times. But, it's a fact that the Atlanta Braves have been better off without him.

Aaron missed his second straight game last night and the Braves, who had dropped 10 of 13 games before he was sidelined, won their third straight, downing Los Angeles 5-4.

There were only two other games played on the slim National League schedule yesterday. San Francisco ended Cincinnati's one-run rut, beating the Reds 8-5, and St. Louis defeated Houston 6-2.

In the American League, Cleveland trimmed Minnesota 7-5, California Angels edged the Baltimore Orioles 6-5, New York Yankees blanked Washington 6-0, and the Chicago White Sox split a pair with Boston, winning the first game 5-2 before losing 7-3.

Aaron is nursing a muscle pull in his side but, surprisingly, his bat hasn't been missed by Atlanta. The Braves pounded out a 13-5 victory over the Dodgers Wednesday and then beat Los Angeles ace Don Drysdale with a late rally yesterday.

Drysdale was working on a two-hitter and leading 4-1 until the seventh when Joe Torre and Rico Carty opened with singles and Clete Boyer doubled for one run. Denis Menke greeted reliever Phil Regan with a two-run single, tying the score.

The Braves pushed across the winning run against Regan in the ninth on a walk to Menke, a sacrifice, an infield out and Felipe Alou's single.

Drysdale drove home two of Los Angeles runs and scored a third.

Bob Gibson pitched a four-hitter and struck out nine for the Cardinals, who ended a three-game slide against the Astros.

Houston hopped on Gibson for a pair of first inning runs, but the St. Lois ace shut the Astros out after that.

The Cards clipped Larry Dierker for single runs in the second and third and then took the lead for good with a three-run burst in the fifth which was ignited by Julian Javier's lead-off homer.

After Javier's shot, Ed Bressoud ended an 0-for-23 slump with his first hit of the season. bressoud moved up on a sacrifice and scored on Bob Tolan's second run-producing hit of the night. Then Roger Maris doubled Tolan across.

Red Kelly Becomes A King

MONTREAL (AP) — Punch Imlach and Jack Kent Cooke, the most angry men at the National Hockey League meetings, finally have put their heads together—and made Red Kelly a King.

Kelly, a 20-year NHL standout, became the coach of the Los Angeles Kings yesterday after the Toronto Maple Leafs traded him to the expansion club for defenseman Ken Block.

The deal, announced as the NHL concluded its four-day conclave, broke a bitter stalemate between Toronto general manager Imlach and King's owner Cooke over Kelly's status in the expansion draft.

Kelly, promised the Los Angeles coaching job before the draft, expected the Leafs to clear the way for his selection by the Kings. But after Los Angeles picked nine other players, Imlach turned the tables by adding Kelly to Toronto's protected list.

The Kings contended Toronto had violated a prior agreement —supported by the five other expansion teams—that the 39-year-old forward would be left open until the last round, when Cooke would claim him.

Imlach insisted he had made no deal and blasted Cooke for "trying to take advantage of me."

JIM MURRAY

The Reluctant Warrior Named Floyd Patterson

With Floyd Patterson, you begin with the impressive fact he's the only man who ever won the heavyweight championship twice.

Of course, he's the only one who ever lost it twice, too.

An intense, gentle, tormented young man, perpetually bedeviled by nameless anxieties, Floyd Patterson is pathetically miscast as a pugilist. He not only lacks the killer instinct, he could not even be decently charged with intent to do bodily harm. He had a helpless, reeling, out-of-condition Eddie Machen in front of him in Sweden in an early round, and he declared a unilateral truce, content to let his man have the dignity of finishing the fight upright. "The man," he said simply, "has had trouble enough."

HE WATCHED Ingomar Johanson twitch on the floor, dropped by as murderous a punch as Patterson ever threw. "I'll never hate a man in the ring again," Patterson vowed.

Floyd's whole trouble is, he always seems to misunderstand the situation. He is like the dog you take out to get the shot pheasant or falling mallard and, then, he comes galloping back to you with an irate farmer's prize chicken. He puts out bonfires and sweeps through department store blazes. He arrests drunks while across the street they are holding up Brink's.

HE IS like the jewel thief, carefully brought along to swipe the duchess' pearls and, when the big moment comes, he snatches the maid's cut glass. He blunders in the face of history. If you sent him out as St. George, he would kill the girl and bring the dragon home to mother. He is the roadblock in the path of history, the "Wrong Way" Corrigan of the prize ring. He would come into the police station on Christmas Eve with a gun at the head of Santa Claus and say "I caught him trying to break in by the chimney."

FOR INSTANCE, back in 1956, ring legend was about to be made: greying, old Archie Moore, his trunks down to midcalf, crow's feet at his eyes but thunder still in his fists, was about to become the most lovable heavyweight champ of all time. All he had to do was beat this overblown young light-heavyweight.

ALL ARCHIE could see ahead was money — a triumphal exhibition tour of the world, a new breath of fresh air for the gamey old fight business. It was a heart-warming American success story. The sob sisters in press row already had all the stops pulled out for Arch to be the most popular folk hero in sport. So Floyd Patterson knocked him ticking. The bloodhounds had caught Uncle Tom.

THE NEXT scene shows Floyd defending the might and majesty of American pugilism against the modern Swedish Nightingale, Johansson, a carefree cutup who got his training methods out of Playboy Magazine, whose roadwork consisted of the samba and who brought his girlfriend to training camp instead of sparring partners. Patterson was supposed to strike a blow for clean living and the American way of life. All he struck was the floor.

BY THE next fight, Johansson had endeared himself to the sporting public. He was a much more rewarding champion than the hermit of Harlem. He didn't disappear like Judge Crater between fights. He revitalized the sport in Europe, gave hope to the gyms from Dortmund to Dakar. So Floyd stiffened him. Twice.

We next see Floyd, girt in his armor, ready to do battle with the Badman from the Big House, the Guy in the Black Hat—Sonny Liston himself. Reformers shuddered from coast to coast. The President of the United States himself implored Floyd to win.

FLOYD BARELY made it through the National Anthem. Twice.

Then, Cassius Clay turned into the Arabian Knight and made even Sonny Liston look like St. George. They dusted off Floyd one more time, put his rusty armor and his dusty moth-eaten plume back on, and invited the press, radio and TV up to his training quarters to see the "new" Patterson. The "new" Patterson promptly got knocked on his trousers twice by an overweight, overage sparring partner. In the fight, his back hurt so much he prayed to be knocked out. Clay obliged him.

TONIGHT AT THE LOS ANGELES COLISEUM, they bring a new young golden hero to Floyd — Jerry Quarry, hard-punching, clean-living, the only heavyweight on the horizon today who can keep the fight game from slipping into a perhaps deserved oblivion.

Let me guess: Patterson will slaughter him. Santa Claus will show up once more with the handcuffs slapped on him. It figures all the way.

Shrine Game Switched To Candlestick

The 43rd annual Shrine East-West football game will be held at Candlestick Park Dec. 30 instead of Kezar Stadium, a surprised Islam Temple membership learned last night.

The Temple members, who sponsor the annual San Francisco game that raises almost a quarter-million dollars for the Srrine Hospital for Crippled Children, were told that the Divan, its governing body, had decided to switch sites.

Managing Director Albert Jacobs made the report to the members and then promptly turned in his resignation.

The move to Candlestick could lose money this year. Canldestick now seats 42,500 while Kezar seats 59,000. But after the planned Candlestick expansion, it will seat more than 60,000.

Goalby Off And Running In Buick Open Golf Tourney

Royer, Beard Just A Stroke Behind Leader

GRAND BLANC, Mich. (AP) — Even-tempered Bob Goalby, aided by a hot putter and an even hotter wedge, was off and running today in his bid for top prize of $20,000 in the $100,000 Buick Open.

The 36-year-old Palm Beach, Calif., golfer, once regarded as one of the most short tempered members of the PGA tour, shot a red hot 69—three under par—in the opening round yesterday.

His feat was the more remarkable since it included taming the 585-yard 16th hole at Warwick Hills Country Club, generally rated as one of the toughest holes in golf.

Goalby put two tremendous wood shots together and found himself lying some 75 feet away from the pin. He wedged in front there for an eagle three.

NO PUTT FORMULA

His formula of no putts also paid off on the 11th as he chipped in from 40 feet for a birdie three.

The 69 left him a stroke ahead of the day's hard luck guy, Hugh Royer of Columbus, Ga., and Frank Beard of Louisville, Ky., both of whom had 70s.

Royer, four strokes under par after 17, and seemingly headed toward the opening day lead, had a disasterous, unique finishing hole.

One of his partners,cigar-chomping Charlie Sifford of Charlotte, N.C., touched off a long debate when he pushed his drive into the rough between two traps.

Sifford contended he was entitled to a free lift since the ground was under repair. Play was held up until Wade Cagle of the PGA could get to the scene to make a ruling. He finally gave the go sign to Sifford, and the latter dropped in a better location and was on his way to his par.

UNDER PRESSURE

Royer, who admitted he was "really under pressure" during the 15-minute tie-up, hit his second shot into a trap and blasted clear over the green on his third try, landing against a temporary fence. That brought Cagle out again, and after another delay he ruled Royer was entitled to a free left.

The former captain of the University of Georgia golf team finally chipped on and two putted for a double bogey six.

Defending champion Phil Rodgers had trouble as he posted an 85.

There was considerable grumbling among the pros about the condition of the greens on the back nine, but none would be quoted.

The Warwick Hills course, in its 10th year as the site of the Buick Open, is in the midst of a three-year program of renovating and rebuilding of the course.

Tournament officials conceded the course was not in top shape but as Goalby pointed out, "The course isn't so bad. If the tournament were being held in August, I think we would find the fairways and greens in much better shape."

Amateur World Cage Title Up For Grabs; U.S. Upset

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — Yugoslavia threw the amateur World Basketball Championship up for grabs with a come from behind 73-72 upset victory over the United States last night.

That gave the Yugoslavs, the defending champions, a 4-0 record in the round-robin tourney to 4-1 for Russia and 3-1 for the United States. In all likelihood, the championship will be decided on Sunday, the final night, when Yugoslavia plays Russia and the United States meets Brazil.

The Americans meet Poland and Yugoslavia play Uruguay tonight in their final games before the big windup on Sunday. Argentina plays Brazil and Uruguay takes on Poland in Saturday night's twin bill.

The United States, led by Darrell Carrier and Mike Silliman with 12 points each, seemed well on its way to a seventh straight victory, including qualifying round play, before the Yugoslavs rallied. The Americans led at halftime by 39-33 and increased their margin to 14 points at 49-35 early in the second half.

Paced by Danev's 28 points, the Yugoslavs then found the range and rallied to tie at 69-69 to set the stage for an exciting last minute.

THE FISHIN' FOOL

Low Tides Promise Bountiful Weekend

By RALPH STEVENS

If you note the tide tables for the weekend, you will note that we are in for a series of minus tides, mighty fine for the picking of abalones or for the digging of clams, but if history repeats itself, not good for striper striving on bait.

I got lots of arguments on the subject, and I can't give a good reason for the slacking off of bait fishing for bass on sub-normal tides, but my records for over 30 years indicates that such is the case in the upper San Pablo Bay waters. (Not to the lower bay where subnormal tides frequently increase the take of bass.)

SUCH LOW tides don't seem to effect the sturgeon or flounder fishing, only bass. But there is an exception to that rule. Starting tomorrow at 5 p.m. the party boats will begin the unique trolling which happens each year at this time. Unique in that while the striped bass are normally bottom feeders, and feed nearly always on certain stages of the tides, late evening trolling becomes productive in spite of the tides. From about 5 p.m. until sundown every day, trolling pays off in a big way. Many different lures are used, with probably the feathered jigs on one part of the divided leader and a plug, or a second jig on the other.

Tomorrow chances are that the area around the Carquinez Bridge will get the hardest workout. Private boats out of Crockett and Rodeo have been scoring for several days in that area.

As far as I know, this is the only area on the west coast in which late evening trolling for stripers is practiced.

BETTY URBAIS of Sausalito Boat and Tackle called to report a number of the sport salmon boats were on the way in at 10:30 a.m. on Wednesday, so there is no slackening of salmon fishing from five to ten miles southeast of the Farallones. "Rockfishing was a bit slower than usual," Betty reported, "but some nice fish were landed — about 10 fish per rod."

San Rafael Braves Launch Western Baseball League Schedule Tomorrow

San Rafael Braves open play in the Western Baseball Association with four games in three days.

Then Monday night the Braves host Bellingham, Wash. in a game starting at 8 o'clock. Monday will be "Baseball Bonanza" night, with Little League and Pony League youngsters admitted free when accompanied by an adult. There will be a drawing for bats, balls and other baseball equipment.

The scheduled Braves' opener against Santa Rosa was rained out last weekend.

The Braves won 10 of their 12 practice games prior to the start of league play, including their last five games. In that record are 91 San Rafael runs compared to 41 for the opposition. Showing much more power than manager Joe Anselmo expected, the team has blasted eight home runs in its last three games.

Among the heavy-hitting batters are third baseman Bill Connolly, hitting .520 in practice game action; second baseman Rich Jeffries, .610 with two homers; outfielder Gerry Bosch, .405; outfielder Joe Panella, .375 with a grand slam homer; outfielder Bill Brody, .320 with a pair of homers; shortstop Paul Giambra, .390; first baseman Neal McNevin, .365; and infielder Ron Gaspar, .400.

ROCKY SHONE

RICH JEFFRIES

The eight-man Braves pitching staff includes five right-handers and three southpaws. The lefties include starters Bob DeRosa (1-0), veteran with the team, and Ron Gilliam (1-0), former Tamalpais High School star who pitched for College of Marin, and reliever Taylor Delbex from San Mateo Junior College.

Bill Wakefield, former pitcher with the New York Mets, is a righthanded starter who won three of the Braves' practice games. The other righthanded starter is Ben Burch (1-0) who prepped at Marin Catholic and now pitches at Stanford University.

Righthanded relievers include Bill Clark (2-0) of College of Marin, Ben Trujillo (1-1), former member of the Houston Astros, and Nono Geminiani, formerly of the Detroit Tigers organization.

Catching for the San Rafael team will be Rocky Shone, former San Rafael High School star who was voted all-Northern California honors for the University of California freshman team, and Bob Dowd, left-handed hitting catcher from San Francisco State.

The current Braves' roster lists 25 players, but Anselmo must cut the team to 18 before the start of league play.

Admission to Braves' home games at Albert Field in San Rafael is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

Entry blanks for the 1967 Bay Area Soap Box Derby July 23 at Fremont are available at DeLong Chevrolet, San Rafael, and must be filled in by June 15, it was announced yesterday. Eligible to compete are boys 11 through 15 years of age.

Stanford Baseball Coach Announces His Retirement

STANFORD (UPI) — Even if Stanford's top-ranked baseball team wins the "College World Series" next week, it will mark W. P. Dutch Fehring's last time out as head coach.

The 55-year-old mentor announced yesterday that he will resign after the Omaha classic to take over the new post as director of Stanford's intramural and club sports activities.

"I just feel that some 30 years of coaching is enough," said Fehring, who was a star lineman for Purdue's football team. "I've enjoyed most of the experiences I've had at it and am looking forward to the new position."

Ray Young, Stanford's frosh coach for the past seven years, will move into Fehring's spot, it was announced by athletic director Chuck Taylor.

Fehring came to Stanford in 1949 and succeeded Everett Dean as head baseball coach in 1956. Including this year's record of 33 wins and four losses, the Indians varsity had a 285-160 mark under Fehring's direction.

He also has been active as an assistant football coach and will continue to do some scouting for the varsity, Taylor said.

Member coaches in the NCAA's District Eight recently elected Fehring the division's "coach of the year."

Collegiate Baseball, an official publication, placed Stanford first in its final ratings. Auburn was second and Ohio State, the defending NCAA champion, third.

Globetrotter Team Sold: $3,710,000

CHICAGO (AP) — A syndicate headed by Potter Palmer, a major stockholder in the Atlanta Braves baseball team, has purchased the world-famous Harlem Globetrotter pro basketball team for $3,710,000.

Circuit Court Judge Robert Dunne approved the Palmer group's bid yesterday, which was favored by the co-executors of the estate of the former owner, the late Abe Saperstein.

Dunne ruled against two other bids, one for $3.5 million by Metromedia, Inc., and another for $3 million by the Linn Broadcasting Co.

An attorney representing the Saperstein family urged sale to the Tennessee-based Linn group which had promised to keep the Trotters in Chicago and sell 20 per cent of the team's stock to the Saperstein estate.

Palmer, scion of a wealthy Chicago family, said he had no intention of moving the organization from Chicago or changing its operational methods.

Surprises In Store At Softball Contest

An unreasonable facsimile of softball will be played at San Rafael's Albert Park tonight featuring coaches of Marin County Athletic League high schools against the Nave Brothers All-Stars.

Actually, it will be a lob ball game played with a mushy 16-inch ball.

Sponsored by the Tamalpais High Associated Students to raise money for a school-to-school project in Africa, the game will start at 7 o'clock, preceded at 6:30 by entertainment and preliminary activities. Admission is $1 for adults, 50 cents for students.

The Nave All-Stars, representing Nave Lanes, near Ignacio, feature Bill, Rich and Bob Nave. Noted for their colorful costumes in various Marin events, the brothers promise "plenty of surprise."

Other members of the Nave team will be San Rafael Mayor Paul Bettini, Marin Supervisor John McInnis, San Rafael Board of Education member Carl J. "Red" Brown, San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa, former American League pitcher Jack Wilson and Ken Lazzarini, Milton Schwartz and Willie Mazzina of San Rafael.

The MCAL Coaches' team will include Gary Hughes, William Isetta and Clifford Vattuone of Marin Catholic, Jerry Colletto, Al Scott and Ford Joy of Novato, Gary Coronado and Al Endriss of Redwood, Pete Hayward and Verle Sorgen of Drake, Willie Hector and Bruce Grant of Tamalpais and others from Terra Linda and San Rafael.

NBA All-Star Game Sites Selected

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Basketball Association's 1968 All-Star Game will be played in New York's Madison Square Garden Jan. 23.

The 1969 All-Star Game will be played in Baltimore's Civic Auditorium and the 1970 contest in Philadelphia's new arena which will open this fall. These games also will be played in January.

The sites were selected yesterday by NBA club owners at the conclusion of a two-day meeting.

Commissioner Walter Kennedy, who was given a new five-year contract at a reported annual salary of $60,000, said expansion of the league toward 18 teams, adding two a year to the present 12, was still under consideration.

Major accomplishment at the meeting was an agreement between the clubs and players on a pension plan providing 10-year veterans $600 monthly for life starting at age 65.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY

There is some belief that the Boy Scout program no longer emphasizes the outdoor skills it once stressed. Not so, say Scouters. True, the program has been broadened. But there is still training in fire-building, rope-lashing, semaphore-signaling and all the old Scout standbys. For proof, you can accompany Marin's Boy Scouts to their annual camporee in tomorrow's Marin Magazine and witness a pictorial demonstration of their skill.

For the past several weeks a motion picture company has been busy in the Bay Area shooting the film "Petulia." Many of those scenes were shot in Marin County. And one of the most difficult had as its backdrop the famed Golden Gate Bridge. Photographer Lynn Vardeman filmed the filmers, shooting pictures of the director, stars and crew as they worked. You'll see them in the I-J's weekend supplement tomorrow.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Safe Speculation? There Isn't Any

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "I have a little money to to invest. All I'm interested in is making a fast profit. What would you advise as a safe speculation?" G. M.

A. There is no such thing as a safe speculation, in the sense that I think you mean. I cannot advise you too strongly against any attempt to make easy money by stock market speculation. Making a fast dollar in stocks is just as difficult as making it in any other way. You need patience, knowledge, reliable information and a measure of luck. In my lifetime, I have seen more losses than gains by people who regard the market as a glorified roulette wheel. If you have money that should be invested, I believe that you would do well to buy—and hold patiently—stocks which have shown excellent growth in recent years and seem likely to continue this pattern in the future. In that category I would include Calgon, Green Giant and Holiday Inns.

Q. "I am an elderly man with no illusions about the fact that with my poor heart condition, my end is not too far away. I will have a fairly large estate tax and I have heard that there are certain Treasury bond issues which can be tendered to the Government at par in payment of death duties. Is this so, and can you tell me which ones I should buy?" O. S.

A. I rarely encounter a man as sensible as yourself who has faced up squarely to the unpleasant fact of death and is thinking realistically of those who will follow him. There are 24 Treasury issues which are acceptable at par in payment of federal estate taxes, when actually owned by the decedent at the time of his death. In your position, I would buy the bonds in this category which sell at the greatest discount. At present there are the Treasury 3's of 1995, which sell around 81.

Auto Industry Film In Premier

A new automotive industry film, "Every One and Six-Tenths Seconds," was given its Bay Area premiere showing yesterday in Marin County.

The full-color picture, showing planning of 1967 automotive campaigns, was presented by the Independent-Journal's promotion department at a luncheon meeting at Sabella's Restaurant to Northern California automotive factory executives, representatives of their national advertising agencies, and Marin new car dealers.

The film dramatized the "inside view" of automotive advertising, with emphasis on the creative use of the newspaper medium.

Market Is Mixed In Sluggish Rise

NEW YORK (AP)— Gainers outnumbered losers at the close of the stock market today.

The resignation of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser prompted an uncertain stock market to make a modest improvement.

Blue chips did not do as well as the general run of stocks, however, and as the market groped its way along the industrial average gave an indifferent performance.

Gainers outnumbered losers by about 7 to 4 and the Dow Jones industrial average erased a small loss and moved slightly into plus territory.

Nasser's resignation was merely another item in the series of events favoring Israel since the start of Middle East hostilities on Monday, brokers said, and the question remained as to how a durable peace will be worked out. Caution increased because of the coming weekend.

The day began with a vigorous rally at the opening in a follow-through to the late news Thursday of the Egyptian acceptance of a cease-fire. The advance ran out of steam quickly, however, and prices softened.

Most leading motors were fractional losers.

Occidental Petroleum gained 2 as it paced the list on activity.

Marquardt, which was report- Industries, rose 3 points in active dealings. Milwaukee Railroad gained near 4.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange.
